A WONDERFUL PUBLICATION
ROMANIC AND THRILLING INCIDENTS START TO FINISH

THE MYSTERIES OF THE M GUL DARBAR

BY DHIRENDRA NATH PAUL

Author of the Mysteries of the Mogul Court, Hindu Philosophy &c.

WILL BE COMPLETED IN 8 PARTS.

Each Part Ans. 12. Postage Ans. four only. Concession—If you advance Rs. 5/- at a time, you will get the whole book (8 parts) Post free

THREE PARTS OUT

It was not long ago that our Mysteries of the Mogul Court had seen the light of day. It, is chiefly based on the principal events during the reign of Emperor Jahangir, but this book, The Mysteries of the Mogul Darbar is replete with mysteris that occurred during the reign of Emperor Sha Jahan. The Empress Nurjahan at the time of the Jahangir was the lady paramount and exercised unrestrained influence throughout the Empire. The reader would find now what inhuman actions did Roshenara, the daughter of Emperor Sha Jahan commit only to become the second Nurjahan.

No one has yet made an attempt to place before the public the Mysteries,—secret conspiracies—private and public execution,—deep laid plots, horrible hair spliting incidents—within the thousand of labyrinths; secret passages, rooms, doors and windows in the celestial palaces of the great Mogul, and also undreamt of luxuries, and pleasures,—the flow of the vast wealth quite unimaginable. The Unique book being a Historical Romance will give flesh and blood to this skeleton and place the Mogul Emperors, their great Begums and their innumberable Bandis together with the great Amirs, Omraos, Mansabdars and Rajput Rajas in their living forms. Normal Eyes Never ACHE!

THE every-day strain on your eyes is enormous. If your eyes quickly become tired—if they ache or smart at times, they are probably defective. You may still be able to see fairly well, but pain indicates the presence of eye-strain.

Glasses would bring real rest, comfort and safety to your eyes. Have your sight carefully examined, and correct glasses adapted.

Our perfected methods enable us to fit glasses which are scientifically exact in every detail.

WONDERS OF PSYCHIC POWER

Dear Sir,

I have had the occasion to consult Mr. MIR during the illness of my relation. The prediction has turned out, word by word, true. Not only this, but Mr. MIR told me that my relative cannot get cured and will die on such and such date. It came out true. My relative died on the same date. This prophecy was made fifteen days before her death. I have great faith in this science he has acquired. I honestly recommend others to try in the case of emergency. I have my questions prepared at home, and I had kept them folded with me. They were read out by Mr. MIR, word for word correct. When I opened, every question was found in writing itself. It is marvellous as well as mysterious.

P. M. DOCTOR,
Girgaon,
BOMBAY.

I have been a sceptic all my life, but on the recommendation of my friend, Mr. K. S. Rele, I visited Mr. MIR with a view to test the power of Mr. MIR and with a feeling of ridicule, I asked Mr. MIR two questions and to my surprise found him to repeat my questions word by word. This is indeed amazing, and had made me pause and under if after all I have been in wrong all my life. As regards the answers, future will certify and testify to their correction.

(Sd.) K. V. NODAH,
Pleader,
AMRAOTI, (Berar).

Having read on account of Mr. MIR'S thought-reading power in the "Bombay Chronicle," I took an opportunity of testing it, and from what I saw I can describe it as simply marvellous. I had seen something of this kind in America, but Mr. MIR'S power is far greater.

P. D. MAHALAXMIVALA,
Secretary, B. I. S. Tramway Co. Ltd.

The "Bombay Chronicle" of 10th and 23rd April and 7th May last, and also vernacular papers have spoken in eulogistic terms of Mr. MIR'S psychic power.

If you are suffering from any kind of disease, if you are tired of life, if your life is a burden to you and others, if you are suffering from hallucination of a gloomy future.

You should lose no time in paying a visit to Mr. MIR, the great psychic whose wonderful reading of past and future incidents, is the topic not only of Bombay but of the principal cities of India.

PATIENTS AND OTHERS, please consult, or write to, Mr. MIR at the MIR PHARMACY, Kshetria Dyanti Nivas, Girgaon, Charni Road, Bombay.

Consulting hours:—Every day 10 to 1 a.m., 4 to 8 p.m.

Charges Rs. 2 only for answering one question. Consultation for patients free.

P.S.—Enclose half anna stamp for a free book "The great offer to the sages of India."

DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR.

DIABETES SPECIALIST,

Over 20 years experience awarded gold Medals. Of the numerous testimonials accorded by patients as well as chemical Analysers, the following are taken at random:—

Rao Bahadur Keshavlal G. Trivedy, Retired Assistant Political Agent Bombay Presidency and (Chief Revenue Officer, Junagadh State,) writes:—

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the efficacy of the medicines of Dr. S. Rangaswami Iyengar, Diabetes specialist of Madras. I was under his treatment for six week's course in which the Specific Gravity of Urine fell from 1038 to 1015 degrees, and sugar which was considerable in the beginning became almost imperceptible—which means a wonderful cure of the obstinate disease which had baffled the treatment of many Doctors and Physicians before. I recommend him to all suffering from the bad disease for the rare quality of his drugs which seem to be purely vegetable drugs."

Mr. N. K. Karode, ...Chemical Analyser, Junagadh State writes:—

"I am glad to certify that Dr. S. Rangaswami Iyengar treated Rao Bahadur Keshavlal G. Trivedi in 1916 for Diabetes and effected cure in the course of about six weeks. At the commencement of the treatment, the Sp. Gr. of his urine was 1038 and it gradually fell to 1015 and accordingly the quantity of sugar also decreased and came down almost normal. Dr. S. R. Iyengar's treatment seems to consist of native drugs and the effect is marvellous. I am of opinion that anybody suffering from this disease should take benefit of Dr. Iyengar's treatment." 2nd December 1918.

BOMBAY MARKET.

COTTON,

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

September 8.

To-day Reuter reported 42 points higher in New York futures. After the recent heavy decline the New York market advanced on Bull support and short covering and an favourable cables. The market has a steadier tone. Crop accounts are still bad, and it looks as if the market may go higher. We advise buying at present level, especially on all good breaks.

The Marwari Bazar opened this morning for F. G. M. G. Broach April/May at Rs. 474. In the early part of the session Bull operators were sellers. But later on buying by an Indore operator the prices improved to Rs. 477½. To-day being Cutcha Candy settlement day there were sharp fluctuations and the rate at 4 p.m. ruled Rs. 476. The Bazar finally closed at Rs. 478. At Colaba the market opened at Rs. 477½ and going up to Rs. 478½ closed at Rs. 477. Fine M. G. Oomra September opened at Rs. 491. There was not much doing in this position and the prices fluctuated within a range of four rupees the rate at 4 p.m. being Rs. 486. While Oomra December/January opened at Rs. 422 and went up till Rs. 425 the rate at 4 p.m. ruling Rs. 423. F. G. M. G. Bengal December-January was Rs. 349/50 nominal.

Our market for ready cotton continued to remain very quiet yesterday. The Bull manipulators bought a few hundred bales of fine Berar against rejections.

To-day's tenders for Oomra September are as follows:—

Berar 17,000 bales.
Central provinces No. 1 4,300 bales.
Central provinces No. 2 4,500 bales.
Total 25,800 bales.
Total upto date as under.
Berar 122,700 bales.
Central provinces No. 1 42,900 bales.
Central provinces No. 2 33,800 bales.
Total 199,400 bales.

The Marwari Bazar and the Colaba markets are closed to-morrow for a public holiday.

MONEY.

Monetary conditions remain generally unchanged, but there is some inquiry in the market for three and four months' money at about 3 to 3½ per cent. Call money is available at about 2 per cent. The Imperial Bank cash balance is down by Rs. 61 lakhs and the Bank rate remains unchanged at 4 per cent.

The New Government of India loan is now quoted at about 1/4 per cent. premium and there is a good inquiry in the market for all bonds.

EXCHANGE.

Exchange on London opened at 1s. 3-1/2d but the market subsequently recovered and improved to 1s. 3-5/8d. during the course of the week on bills showing in Calcutta. At the higher level there was some inquiry for remittances and rates gave way, closing at 1s. 3-9/16d. for ready. T. T. The American exchange on London improved from dols. 4.46-1-2 to Dols. 4.47-1/4, but closes steady found Dols. 4.46. Owing to an improvement in the European political situation the value of the German mark appreciated during the course of the week and closed round 5900 to the pound sterling.

GOLD.

Gold was steady at the opening of the week. Later, on firmer sterling, our rates declined to Rs. 26-12-6 for ready delivery, but prices subsequently improved and closed steady round Rs. 26-14 per tola. The upcountry demand is dull and averages only some 13,000 tolas a day, while our stock is estimated at about 5½ lakhs tolas.

SILVER.

Our silver market was steady throughout the week in sympathy with the Shanghai market. The price for the metal improved in London from 35-1/8d. to 35-5/8d. but declined later, and closes at 35-3/8d. The Shanghai London rate also improved from 3s. 5-1/2d. to 3s. 6d. per tael and closes at 3s. 5-3/4d. The off-take averaged about 60 bars a day and the stock is estimated at about 3,500 bars.

SHARES.

Toere were only two working days on the Stock Exchange during the week under review and business passing in cotton mill shares was very limited. The September Settlement, which proved to be among record settlements on this Stock Exchange, has now passed quite smoothly and the bull syndicate have taken delivery of David and Currimbhoy mill shares. Monday is the auction day and all indications point to a smooth settlement of troubles which at one time had assumed a serious aspect.

In Cotton mill shares the prices of Bombay Dyeings improved from Rs. 1435 to Rs. 1450, Central Indias from Rs. 4620 to Rs. 4730, Kohinoors from Rs. 2340 to Rs. 2390, Pearls from Rs. 940 to Rs. 955, Simplex from Rs. 685 to Rs. 710 and Swadeshis from Rs. 4630 to Rs. 4800.

In the miscellaneous section, Tata Steel deferreds continue unchanged round Rs. 102/8, while Bombay Trams are steady at about Rs. 116/4. Amongst Bank shares, Imperial Banks were steady round Rs. 1347/8 and the BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

RIGHTS OF RETURN TICKET-HOLDERS.

PROSECUTION OF PASSENGERS BY RAILWAY CO. FAILS.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. B. N. Athavle, Acting Third Presidency Magistrate, Mr. Andrew De Souza, Chief Ticket Inspector in the G. I. P. Railway, asked for an order against Messrs. N. M. Wadhwana, E. K. Engineer and M. Mistry, requiring them under Section 113 of the Railways Act IX of 1890 to pay their second class railway fare from Victoria Terminus to Kalyan, and a penalty equal to the second class fare.

Mr. B. H. Daroowalla, pleader, defended the accused.

According to the prosecution story, on the 12th July, 1922, the defendants who had come to Bombay from Kalyan on a second class return ticket went back to Kalyan by the 19 Down Poona Express, travelling in which was prohibited to local passengers. It was argued that a Railway Company had absolute right to regulate its own traffic in its own way. It had therefore the right to reserve a train or a carriage or a compartment.

His Worship in the course of his judgment observed under Section 47 (1) (b) the Railway had the power of making Rules consistent with the Act providing for the accommodation and convenience of passengers, but it was provided by clause (3) that these rules should take effect only when sanctioned by the Governor-General-in-Council and published in the "Gazette of India." In this case the defendant had not been required by a railway servant to leave the train and he had not refused to comply with the request. If he had refused he would undoubtedly have been liable to punishment under Section 109 of the Act. But he was not charged under that section. The case against him was that contrary to the provisions of Section 68, he travelled without a proper ticket. But it was admitted that he had the return half of a second class ticket to Kalyan and under Section 3 (16) ticket included a single ticket, a return ticket and a season ticket. The defendant had a ticket which enabled him to return to Kalyan in a second class carriage and it did not lie in the mouth of the railway to say that he had not a proper ticket as required under Section 68 of the Act. It was through the negligence of their own servants that the defendant travelled by that train and therefore it was not fair that they should try to seek redress against him under Section 113 of the Act for the negligence of their servants.

Under the circumstances, therefore, his Worship dismissed the application.

E. A, PEERBHOY ASSAULT CASE.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Rao Bahadur Chunilal Setalvad, Ag. Chief Presidency Magistrate, Inspector Klien charged one Mahomed Alli Hakimji who was charged with causing grievous hurt to Mr. Ebrahim Adamji Peerbhoy under the circumstances already reported in the "Bombay Chronicle."

Mr. Fareira, solicitor with Mr. Bhave, pleader, appeared for the complainant; while Mr. Sorabsha P. Kapadia, pleader, defended the accused.

Inspector Klien, at the outset, applied for an adjournment on the ground that Mr Ebrahim was unable to attend the Court and two more offenders were to be arrested. He produced Dr. Bacha's certificate which showed that the spine of Mr. Ebrahim's left shoulder had a fracture. It was further mentioned that Mr. Ebrahim had no objection to be medically examined by Lt.-Col. Carter and Dr. Nunan, Police Surgeon.

His worship adjourned the case till the 20th instant remarking that it would be fair to both the parties if a fair start of the case was made at the next hearing.

COL. GIDNEY'S CASE.

At a meeting of the Council of the Central Provinces Branch of the Anglo-Indian and Domiciled European Association, held on Saturday the 2nd instant, Mr. R. W. Johnson, presiding, the recent case of Filose vs Filose, in which Col. Gidney, President-in-chief of the Association, was a witness, was fully discussed, and it was unanimously decided to send the following telegram to Col. Gidney:—

"Central Provinces Branch have implicit faith in your vindicating your integrity and honour. You may rely on our support."

A copy of letter dated the 27th July 1922, from Mr. A. F. Filose to Col. Gidney, was also read and recorded. In this letter Mr. Filose said, "I realise that the statement I made against you regarding force and terrorism towards Kathleen are untrue, and if necessary I am prepared to publicly state this in open court. I give you this letter as I feel I should do justice to you, who acted in the most kind way possible to both Kathleen and myself on the 11th May, 1922. In conclusion let me assure you that words fail me to tell you how genuinely sorry I am for having said these untrue statements about you."

KING EDWARD MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

APPLICATION FOR A LOAN.

A meeting of the Municipal Standing Committee was held yesterday, Dr. M. C. Javle presiding, when consideration has given to a letter from the Municipal Commissioner applying for a further advance of Rs. 4 lakhs, from available loan balances, to meet the demand of the Executive Engineer, Architectural District in connection with the work of construction of certain blocks of the King Edward Memorial Hospital. He stated that the pace of the work had been accelerated and that it had now reached the level of the roof, which, it was expected, would be laid by December next. He had again addressed Government for their promised payment of Rs. 4 lakhs; and owing to the High Court proceedings there appeared to be little chance that the amount promised by the King Edward Memorial Committee would be received at an early date.

The Committee forwarded the letter to the Corporation recommending sanction.

A KANDEWADI NUISANCE.

The Committee also forwarded the following letter to the Commissioner for favour of remarks. It was from Mr. J. H. Desai, stating that about 25 cows belonging to a milk-man at the Hanuman Temple, Kandewadi, had not been provided with a stable and that they roamed about in the adjacent lanes, obstructing the passage and causing trouble to passers-by; that near Khatakis' Chawl at Nikdawari Lane in the same locality, there were about a score of calves huddled together, rendering the place insanitary; that at times cows which were no longer fit for milking were sold in the public street to the butchers and that the scene embittered the religious sentiments of the Hindu residents of the locality; that these things had for a long time past been overlooked by Municipal as well as by Police authorities. He requested that the matter might be properly dealt with either by some responsible Municipal Officer or by the Commissioner of Police.

Addressing the third Berar Rural Board Conference at Akola Sir Frank Sly drew attention to a new scheme of Government for transferring to District Boards the work of inspection of vernacular schools which would lead to the raising of the standard of primary education.

"TAJ" STRIKE.

STRIKER CHARGED WITH TRESPASSING.

At the Esplanade Police Court before Rao Bahadur Chunilal Setalvad, Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, V. A. Fernandez, a Taj striker, was charged with criminal trespass.

Mr. Saher, bar-at-law, appeared for the complainant; while Mr. K. F. Nariman, pleader, with Mr. Pais, pleader defended the accused.

On the case being called out, the Magistrate enquired of Mr. Nariman whether there was any way out of the case.

Mr. Nariman said that there was a way out of the case provided the parties concerned agreed to it.

His worship said that if he was convinced that the case was not a criminal one, then there was an end of the matter. He was willing to give a few days more for them (all the accused) to vacate the quarters.

Mr. Saher:—"Well, they can go to Goa."

Mr. Nariman said that he was sure the sympathy of the court would go with the accused. Where were these poor men to go? Were they to lie in the street?

Mr. Saher said that every Goanese had a coor and so these men go to their respective coors.

Continuing the cross-examination of Mr. Gandy, the latter said that the notices pasted at the quarters were in English. The men were supposed to know English just enough to know the Customers' orders. He did not know personally the signature of the accused. He did not personally know the received. Witness only issued instructions by means of notices. The head waiters were informed to carry their (the management's) instructions to the strikers. He did not know whether they were transmitted to them or not.

The case was adjourned till Thursday next, as Mr. Nariman wanted to transfer the case to the High Court.

STRIKERS CHARGED WITH RIOTING

At the Esplanade Police Court before Mr. B. N. Athavle, Ag. Third Presidency Magistrate, Sub-Inspector Abdul Karim Sheikh charged Shiva Bhima and fourteen others (nine hamals and six waiters) belonging to the Indian Hotels Company, Ltd., with being members of an unlawful assembly and with rioting on the night of August 25.

Inspector Finan prosecuted while Messrs. Kanuga and Nariman, pleaders with Mr. Pais, pleader defended the accused.

Moria Mansa, a butler to Mr. Esborne of Messrs. Cox and Company said that on receipt of a telephonic message that night he was sent with two others to the Taj Mahal Hotel at 10 p.m. There he saw a crowd of strikers who on seeing him and his colleagues shouted "Maro, maro." He and his colleagues, thereupon, ran away. The police came on the scene and arrested him with the strikers. While he was running away he was assaulted by the first and the second accused with umbrellas. He was taken to the Police Station where he was pointed out the two accused by a Saheb whom he identified as his assailants.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kanuga, the witness said the crowd numbered about 200. As he ran away into a shop, a police officer arrested him. In spite of his protest he was taken to the Police Station and kept apart.

Walji Mawji said they were dressed as butlers when they went to the hotel and while they were entering, some of the crowd assaulted them. He corroborated the last witness.

Sergeant Longman said that when he went to the spot with Inspector Naden on receipt of information, they saw a crowd which dispersed on seeing them. He saw two of the accused chasing the last two witnesses. The crowd was throwing lumps of coal and soda-water bottles at the place. Whenever he made arrests, he was belaboured by the rioters. He arrested accused Nos. 9, 11, 12, 13 and 14 who were carrying umbrellas and sticks in their hands. Accused No. 14 struck him on his back with an umbrella. That made the witness turn to him and he arrested the accused.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kanuga, the witness admitted he was charged with assault by two of the accused. He was served with two notices on Thursday evening. The charge alleged against him was that of hurt. He had an occasion for making a baton charge and was ordered to do so by Inspector Naden.

In reply to Mr. Nariman, witness said he repeatedly told the crowd to disperse.

Further hearing of the case was postponed till the 13th of September.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

The Taj Strike is continuing without any change in the situation.

INDIAN SEAMEN'S UNION.

A special meeting of the Indian Seamen's Union was held in the grounds of the Institute at 7, Ekbalpur Lane, Calcutta, last week to consider the German reparation award of £5,000,000 to dependants of the British Merchant Seamen killed during the war and to take steps for getting an adequate and reasonable sum for the benefit of the dependants of the Indian merchant seamen who lost their lives during the war.

Mr. Mahomed Daud the Honorary Secretary, said that it was a source of pleasure to learn that seven and a half crores of rupees had been awarded to the dependants of 17,000 British merchant seamen who died during the war and that roughly speaking Rs. 4,410 was sanctioned in case of the dependants of each seamen, but he regretted that nothing had been done in case of Indian seamen. Mr. Daud pointed out that in the year 1918 Government expressed appreciation of the services of those Indian seamen who either manfully fought successfully or died during the war and acknowledged greatfulness for the lascars' sobriety and philosophic endurance and he demanded that the dependants had the right to get a rateable sum out of the German reparation money Mr. Daud further stated that they demanded justice at the hands of the Government and nothing else. He appealed to the Shipping companies to consider whether their lascars were entitled to the same allowance as was given to the British seamen.

Messrs. B. C. Nag (Asst. Secretary, Seamen's Union.) H. N. Bose, Muzamel Ali and Dr. Abdur Rahaman also spoke after which the following resolutions were passed:

"That this meeting of the Indian Seamen's Union records with pleasure the provision in the notification from the Treasury that £5,000,000 from German reparation money has been earmarked for distribution amongst the dependants of British merchant seamen killed during the war but expresses its regret and great disappointment at the absence of any allotment from the German reparation money for the dependants of the Indian Merchant Seamen killed during the war for the cause of the Empire side by side with the British Merchant Seamen and whose services had been equally recognised with them:

"That this meeting of the Indian seamen's Union respectfully urges the Secretary of State for India to make an allotment of a rateable sum out of the German reparation money for the benefits of the dependants of the Indian Merchant Seamen killed during the war for the cause of the Empire:"

Other resolutions were also passed urging upon the Government of India to recommend to the Secretary of State for India for a similar rateable allotment for the dependants of the Indian seamen, authorising the Right Hon. Syed Amir Ali to represent the matter before the Secretary of State and if necessary to His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor; requesting the Members of the Council of State and the Legislative Assembly to move the matter in the Houses; and expressing great disappointment at the delay in enforcing the recommendations of the Seamen's Recruitment Committee and urging the Government of India to give effect to the same.

THEATRE AND CINEMA.

EXCELSIOR THEATRE.—The coming week will be a specially attractive one at the Excelsior Theatre. This evening, at 5-30 p.m. The Bombay Amateur Dramatic Society will give a farewell performance of their highly successful play "The Admirable Crichton." As a special concession to theatre-goers, half prices only will be charged. This will undoubtedly prove a very popular move, and, as the demand to see this excellent production is still very great, a full house is assured.

"The Will O' the Wisps," who have been delighting Bombay, during the past week, with their bright and highly amusing entertainments, will give another interesting performance at 9-30 p.m. to-night. Their farewell concert will take place to-morrow evening at the matinee, when prices will be reduced. And special programmes are being presented.

Several months have passed since Bombay has received a visit from a good dramatic company, so the appearance of Messrs. Robert Courtneidge's and W. E. Holloway's London Company, in a number of the latest London sucesses, will be very welcome. The company make their initial appearance at the Excelsior Theatre on Tuesday night, when they will present the famous drama from the Duke of York's Theatre "The man from Toronto." The Company includes a number of first class London artistes, chief among whom are Mr. George Zucco, Mr. Claude Allister and Miss Cherry Hardy, and they can be relied upon to give admirable presentations of the plays selected from their repertoire.

* * * *

THE EXCELSIOR PICTURES.—Although the picture programme this week may be somewhat overshadowed by the extra special quality of the stage entertainment, it is right up to the usual high standard of this theatre. The chief film is a fine drama starring that famous actress and screen favourite, Miss Anita Stewart, and with her on this occasion, is Mr. Charles Richman. The drama is entitled "The more Excellent Way", and deals with the all important decision which a young girl is called upon to make, and the consequences of her decision.

* * * *

THE EMPIRE THEATRE.—This week is a special one at the Empire Theatre, where there will be a daily change of programme. Some fine films have been selected, each one well worth seeing. There will be some slight changes in the times, of the shows, during the week, which intending patrons will do well to notice. To-day the big picture is a cinema representation of that famous classic on Ancient Rome "Quo Vadis", a truly gorgeous film. To-morrow the picture "Mickey" will be screened. On the succeeding days "1,001 nights," "The Kid", "Les Miserables" and "Daddy Long Legs", will be respectively shown. The weeks entertainment will wind up with the usual "Fun Programme" on Friday.

* * * *

THE EMPRESS THEATRE.—A Parsi comedy drama, produced by the Madan Theatres, is the principle item of attraction at the Empress Theatre this week. The picture is entitled "Bhooda Boobukh" or "The Two Old Idiots", and its amusing character may be judged from the title. The two old idiots are the sole remaining parents, father and mother respectively, of two young people who fall in love. Many amusing mistakes occur, and the two parents plan to get rid of the young people by marrying them, so that they themselves can marry again. How their plan works out, and how the old pair are at last convinced of their foolishness, forms the nucleus of a very amusing sketch.

WEST-END CINEMA.

"Kismet," the Robertson-Cole super-special picture starring Otis Skinner, which commences to night, at the West-End Cinema, the cost of making this production must have been tremendous. The scenes of the old Turkish city of Bagdad are perfectly presented and carry an atmosphere that transports the audience from the theatre to the Orient.

IGNOBLE SURRENDER.

"I said repeatedly and I say it again that the greatest enemy of political progress, industrial progress and, in fact, of every progress in this country is Mr. Gandhi".—Sir William Vincent in the Council of State.

The expected has happened. The Council of State has made an ignoble surrender and has rejected without even a division the very halting resolution of Mr. Kale regarding the Premier's speech. One or two speakers spoke strongly, Mr. Kale himself characterising the speech as a challenge to India. Mr. Sethna, who also made a vigorous speech, said that "it was absolutely necessary that the Premier himself, the "Home" (sic) Government and the British public clearly understood how the speech and the views expressed therein were looked upon by the Indians at large but particularly by such a responsible body as the Central Indian Legislature." How has the Council of State expressed its views? The views of the country regarding the Premier's insult are well-known. Even "New India" says that "the Premier's crime in spite of the best efforts of Lord Reading to defend it stands naked in all its ghastly nature and only he can atone for it by an ample and sincere apology and by acting in a manner which would satisfy India". And yet the "elder statesmen" of the Council of State have quietly pocketted the insult to their country and thus sadly betrayed its vital interests.

Their surrender was the more ignoble after the characteristic speech which Sir William Vincent delivered. The gem of the speech is the sentence about Mahatma Gandhi which we have quoted at the head of the article. The attack on the Mahatma is quite in keeping with Sir William Vincent's method of controversy. Like the brave fighter that he is, he keeps quiet what time those he deems his "enemies" are free to defend themselves. As soon as they are deprived of freedom to defend themselves, out comes the redoubtable Sir William and pours forth the vials of his suppressed wrath. Our readers will recall his impotent outburst against the Ali brothers soon after the brave and candid brothers had been safely clapped into jail. Such is the the much-advertised English gentleman's sense of fair-play which the shining lights of the British Civil Servants in India display! But the world—at least the Asiatic part of it—has almost ceased to expect fair-play from a nation which continues to tolerate a man like Mr. Lloyd George as its master. In order to serve his purpose, which was at once to coax and frighten his hearers, Sir William Vincent, as usual, duly requisitioned to his aid "the Moplah Kingdom", "the Sikh Raj", "the cry of separation from the Empire", "the attempts to tamper with the loyalty of the troops", "endeavours to boycott all British trade", and "the despicable game of insulting the heir to the Throne". It is not our present purpose to expose the calculated misrepresentations and vituperations indulged in by Sir William Vincent. It is enough to point out that it served Sir William's purpose to paint the Non-cooperators as black as his attentive and appreciative audience allowed him to do and to suppress the unconsidered trifle, though it may be the root of all questions, that the people of India have been groaning under grievous and unredressed wrongs. But, of course, we did not expect Sir William Vincent to stand up for India.

The object of his concentrated attack on the Non-cooperators generally and the Mahatma in particular was patent. The Mahatma has made it clear that he is sternly opposed to the severance of British connection. But he wants this connection to be based on a relation of mutual equality and trust. That is a relation to the establishment of which, despite the camouflage of "Reforms", the Prime Minister has told India he will never be a party. That is the plain meaning of his "Steel Frame". Lord Reading and Sir William Vincent have only aggravated the Premier's insult to the country. While the Premier was at least straightforward and candid, they have sought refuge in sweet camouflage. Sir William Vincent based his demand for the rejection of Mr. Kale's resolution on the ground that its acceptance would antagonise His Majesty's Government and the people of Great Britain. "If there was one thing essential for the future of this country", he said, "it was the goodwill of the British people and the sympathy, help and assistance of His Majesty's Government." The Indian people will accept any sacrifice whatever to retain and strengthen the goodwiil of the British people and the help and assistance of His Majesty's Government, but they will not accept the sacrifice of their national self-respect." It is the sacrifice of their national self-respect which the Premier demands for the maintenance of his "Steel Frame", and Lord Reading and Sir William Vincent add insult to injury by endorsing the demand. What the Mahatma and his countrymen want is the substance of Swaraj now and immediately—a Swaraj which will duly satisfy all the legitimate vested interests of Britishers, which will preserve the British connection, and maintain the goodwill of the British people. They will not for a moment accept the humiliation of probation for self-government in the distant future under the tutelage of Mr. Lloyd George's "Steel Frame". Sir Maneckji Dadabhoy unconsciously uttered a profound truth when he said that "political freedom had always been gained by the efforts of a country's own people." The greatest service which the Mahatma has done to his country and humanity is this that he has made his countrymen determined to win freedom by their own efforts. That is why Sir William Vincent has so bitterly attacked him. And Sir Maneckji Dadabhoy and his colleagues have betrayed the vital interests of their country because they have, by their action, acquiesced in the humiliating position that the British people and not their own countrymen are the masters of its destiny.

BRITAIN'S OPPORTUNITY.

The most gratifying news concerning the situation in Asia Minor is the capture by the Kemalists of the Greek Generalissimo Tricoupis and a number of Greek Generals. The Kemalists have, besides, taken prisoners four hundred Greek officers and ten thousand soldiers, and captured large quantities of war material, including many guns of all calibres. It was only a few days ago that Tricoupis replaced General Hedjianestis as the Commander-in-Chief of the Greek army, and his capture will undoubtedly have a tremendous effect on the situation. The Greek troops, dispirited and demoralised, have shown their heels at the approach of the Kemalist forces, and even the pro-Greek propagandists now find it a hopeless task to camouflage the Greek position. It appears that King Constantine is engaged at present in a frantic effort to rush up troops from Thrace to the Smyrna front. The attempt was not, however, likely to prove formidable, and we regard the capture of Tricoupis as the culminating point in the situation. We have already mentioned how King Constantine has lost all his popularity, and the Greeks, by themselves never formidable fighters, will hear no more of Tino's mad dreams of becoming a modern Alexander the Great. We have also mentioned how those very Greeks, who, according to Mr. Lloyd George, were inspired with such burning patriotism and fiery zeal for rescuing the five hundred thousand men of their race, were fleeing to the hills to avoid mobilization. Obviously they have had enough of both and are now weary of war—to them an absolutely purposeless war. "Tino" cannot hope to inspire fresh life into them and put them in a fighting mood again. The just and commendable decision of France and Italy declining to apply pressure on the victorious Kemalists to stop war is another important factor in the situation, which must prevent the Greeks from enthusiastically responding to the frantic appeals of "Tino", of whom they are already as tired as they were of Venizelos.

The French and Italian Governments have taken a very just course, which will be warmly approved by every disinterested person, in declining to participate in a joint intervention. A French "Note" to Britain rightly but emphatically points out that "the best solution will be for the Greek and Turkish commanders to come into contact and negotiate an armistice." The capture of Tricoupis specially affords a good opportunity to the Greeks to negotiate through him for an armistice, and we fail to see why any Power—even Britain herself—should feel called upon to intervene, whether alone or jointly. An emergency meeting of the British Cabinet has agreed, according to a London report, that at present there is no prospect of intervention—which is very good. There was a moment—this was about the time of the Paris proposals—when Britain and France and Italy could have jointly intervened and put an end to the conflict by taking the Greeks out of Asia Minor. At that time there was a stalemate and, militarily, neither side was in a position of decided advantage. But Lord Curzon, by his impudent demands on the Kemalists, banged the door on a settlement. Now that the Greeks have been beaten thorougly and the Kemalists have obtained a decisive victory, it is surely not the business of Britain—and we are glad to note that the British Cabinet has recognized it—to intervene on behalf of the "Greek orphans", whom Downing Street has so generously adopted. It is for the swelled-headed Greeks to secure an armistice by giving to the Kemalists proofs of sincere penitence for all their past insolence and unparalleled brutality towrds the Turks. As we are writing, news has come from Constantinople that the Greeks have evacuated several districts on the Asiatic shore of the Dardanelles, and the Allies have definitely informed the Angora Government about the desire of Greece to evacuate Asia Minor, on condition that an armistice is immediately declared. The Angora Government would, doubtless, agree to the proposition, provided there is no treachery behind it. For, the Turks have good reason to remember how in the past they were played false by the Allies—especially Britain,—in connection with the Bulgarian attack on Turkey, who, putting her trust in British assurances, dismissed her troops from the Bulgarian frontier. The Turks also need more trustworthy assurance that, when once an armistice is declared. the British will not propose absurd and impossible terms for a settlement, such as those foolishly indulged by the English Press about the future of Constantinople and the Straits. Such foolish indulgence will not inspire confidence either in Turkey or among Asiatic people, and in the interests of Britain, it is the duty of the Government to declare once for all that they will carry out the pledge of January 1918, which Mr. Lloyd George himself has admitted to be "specific, unqualified and deliberate." That is the least which the British Government can do, and it must be done at once. The other terms of a durable peace in the East, including adequate reparations to Turkey for all the damage and destruction to life and property wrought by the Greeks, could be discussed in a representative conference, to be held at Venice, if need be, as has already been agreed upon. We hope Britain will not miss at least this opportunity of recovering the confidence of Asia in her good faith.

Notes of the Day

Dependants of Killed Indian Seamen.

It was announced in the last week of August that the British Treasury had earmarked five million pounds of the German Reparation money for distribution among the dependants of the British merchant seamen killed during the war. In view of this it is pertinent to inquire what action the Government of India have taken to compensate the dependants of those Indian seamen who gallantly laid down their lives in the last war "for the sake of the British Empire." We have noted in the past that the authorities in this country have been lavish in praise of the Indian seamen and their excellent sea-faring qualities. But then, according to the old adage, "sweet words butter no parsnips", and lavish praise does not compensate for the loss of bread-winners among the families of the Indian seamen. It appears to us that the case—a really strong one—for their dependants has hitherto gone by default. We are glad to note that at a meeting of the Indian Seamen's Union, held in Calcutta at the close of last week, this matter was specially considered and the regret and disappointment of the Union were expressed at the failure of the Government to obtain reparation "for the dependants of the Indian merchant seamen killed during the war for the cause of the Empire", and a resolution was adopted urging the Secretary of State for India to obtain the allotment of a rateable sum out of the German Reparation money for the benefit of those dependants. It is the duty of the Government of India, who have expressed their "appreciation" of the Indian seamen's services, to take up their case energetically and obtain for them fairplay.

Mr. P. M. Bapat.

A Poona message says that Mr. Bapat, President of the Mulshi Satyagraha Mandal, has been sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment. We congratulate Mr. Bapat for the suffering he has invited upon himself in what he considers a great cause. Though we have differed from Mr. Bapat's views, our admiration for him has not suffered in the least. Mr. Bapat is one of the few sincere men who have always had the courage of their convictions; he has striven for the cause he has made his own, regardless of the consequences. It is a pity that the Government have not seen their way to bring about a settlement of the Mulshi controversy, which has acutely soured feelings on both sides, and the imprisonment of such high-souled men as Mr. Bapat—and Mr. Shivrampant Paranjpye—gives rise to melancholy reflections on the incorrigibility of the bureaucratic system of Government. Such action does not in the least conduce to the restoration of good feeling among the people, which is essential for the success of any undertaking.

A "Moderate" Scheme Rejected.

"Wayfarer" writes in "The Nation":—

"Our eyes are (as usual) turned away from India at the moment when we should be watching her with the closest care. The unhappy Lloyd George speech, and its bad reception all over India, may do some unanticipated good if it convinces our political folk that nothing ended with the Gandhi arrest, but that a new phase of Indian politics has opened. What phase? The phase of pressing the reforms to the issue of a self-governing India. It would be interesting to know what Lord Reading's orientation is to this new Indian movement. It cannot be negative. I take a critical question—the Indianization of the Indian Army. It is quite unavoidable, and it has long been considered. Its principle, the inevitable subordination of some Englishmen to some Indians—already applied to the civil sphere—was, I believe, approved by Lord Hardinge. Lord Reading, if I am not mistaken, has gone farther. He has made himself responsible for drafting a moderate measure setting up a gradual scheme of appointment for Indian officers, to mature in thirty years. What has been the fate of this measure? I believe that the Cabinet has considered and rejected it. That would be a serious denial of the spirit of the reforms, for if any such measure has been commended to Downing Street, it must have been with the consent both of the Executive Council and the Legislative Council. Well, that is an Indian demand, if ever there was one. On what ground of policy can it be turned down here? For it is clear that if the Indian Secretary, and through him, the British Cabinet, possesses a right of veto over the Viceroy and his Council and the Legislative Council, the reforms will not march very far or very long."

The writer evidently knows very little about the "Reforms" if he is astonished at the existence of a right of veto possessed by the Secretary of State. The news that the British Cabinet has rejected even the "moderate" scheme of Lord Reading's Government regarding the appointment of Indian officers is, of course, not surprising, having regard to the ascendency of the reactionary elements in the counsels of the British Government.

Revival of Soviet Russia.

The London "Outlook" publishes some astonishing information about Soviet Russia, supplied by Mr. Walter Duranty, formerly Paris correspondent of that journal. Mr. Duranty writes from Moscow on August 1st:—

"Unless I am wholly wrong, the great Nijni Novgorod Fair, which opens to-day and which I am just off to visit, will be a landmark in Russian history. Russia is emerging from night into day. The harvest, taken all in all, is only about 30 per cent. below pre-war average. This means that Russia has come back, and that within three months the peasants will have upwards of fifty million pounds (in real purchasing value) to spend. They need everything, and an industrial revival is certain to follow. Do you realise that these people have stabilised the rouble? Don't make the common error of laughing at the Bolshevists and their finance. It isn't orthodox, but, in a self-contained country, it works. The Russian rouble is now worth more than the German mark. In March the dollar had touched 41 million paper roubles. Since then it has varied between four and five, and it is now about four. That is relative stabilisation. In the meantime, Moscow has done what so many other States will have to do, accomplished demonetisation. New notes have now been issued worth 10,000 times more than the face value of the old notes. Thus a 100-rouble note is worth a million of the old paper. At the end of this year all the old paper money will be valueless, and people are already beginning to talk in terms of the new currency. So to-day the new Soviet money is worth about 1,800 to the pound, or approximately twice the value of the mark, a result which has been accomplished by stopping the printing-press and by the so-called 'bread-loan.' Here is a fact which you will think an astonishing paradox, but it is true; the State Bank has more gold roubles than it knows what to do with, and there is a marked scarcity of paper. If the Bank threw its gold roubles on the market it could still further improve the new rouble and probably put the pound down to one thousand. But this will not be done, as the Bolshevists, following the maxims of Keynes, want stabilisation of exchange more than improvement, and are satisfied to leave things where they are.

"The Japanese have just asked the Bolshevists to a conference, the real purpose of which, I understand, is a commercial agreement, probably on much better terms for Japan than any other nations except Persia and Afghanistan have yet obtained. I understand England has a finger in that pie. What absurd rumours I read in the English papers, which now get through to Moscow in a week, about the impending flight of Trotsky, the fatal illness of Lenin, and the approaching internecine struggle and fall of the Government! No Government in Europe is more stable. Lenin is much better, is already seeing important people for an hour or two every day, and they expect that by the end of August he will be able to go to Moscow and work one or two days each week."

All this gives the lie direct to the anti-Soviet propaganda carried on in England and France in the interest of Capitalism and Imperialism. All of the above may sound like Bolshevist propaganda to the average reader who has been doped by the Allied Press. But, as the "Outlook" says, Mr. Duranty is a capable journalist and in no sense Bolshevik. His testimony, therefore, is disinterested.

FRANCO-GERMAN RELATIONS.

EFFECT OF STINNES CONTRACT.

BRITISH PUBLIC OPINION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.

"Have the Franco-German relations reached a turning point" is being seriously asked in view of the recent signs of economic rapproachment. This is the question which political and economic circles of London, Paris and Berlin are keenly discussing. Particularly interesting is the contract for the supply of enormous quantities of German building material just concluded by Herr Stinnes' combines and Marquis Delubersac on behalf of the French combine for use in the devastated regions.

It is generally recognised that the contract is of the most far-reaching importance, not only because it promises to expedite materially the reconstruction, but in view of the reaction on French and German national policies.

It is noteworthy that of all men Herr Stinnes, whose organs have hitherto been most vehement in denouncing concessions to France, should be anxious to relieve French necessities—albeit for the concession in the shape of six per cent commission on prices of material which is calculated to bring his concern enormous profits. It is significant that the initiative in the matter seems to come from France, while eminent German industrialists have been invited to visit the devastated area, where it is reported, they will meet the representatives of French industry. Moreover, the "French Economic Journal" states that German industrialists have begun conversations with French colleagues regarding many businesses, offering participation in German undertakings as part of reparations while it is reported that the French iron industry will be turned over to German industrialists with a view to some kind of co-operation.

Reports from Berlin, however, suggest that the Germans may demand as a condition to any understanding the alleviation of burdens and pinpricks arising out of the French military occupation of the Rhineland which has created deepest resentment and hatred in Germany. Even the Stinnes contract, which is being discussed by the German Committee for Foreign Affairs to-morrow, has evoked considerable opposition in the Reichstag.

British public opinion, on the whole, is inclined to welcome such contracts as sane attempts to solve the Reparations problem and thereby ease the international situation, always assuming they are not executed by means of further inflation of German currency. The danger pointed out, however, is that Germany, with her highly organised financial and economic schemes, might achieve such economic penetration of France as to menace her political independence and, consequently, the peace of the world.

REPARATION SCHEME.

BELGIAN DISAPPOINTMENT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Berlin.—The Belgian Reparations delegates are disappointed with the tardiness with which negotiations are progressing. They expected that the Germans would have prepared a cut and dried scheme, whereas hitherto Herr Hermes, Finance Minister, has only spoken vaguely of the formation of a consortium of industrialists.

PERSIA AND COUNCIL OF LEAGUE.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Geneva.—It is understood Persia's object in presenting the candidacy for one of the four vacancies on the Council of League of Nations is to secure representation for the Islamic world on the Council.

COUNCIL OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS,

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.

Paris.—An unconfirmed report from Geneva says that it has been agreed to increase the number of permanent members of the Council of League of Nations from four to seven. One seat each is said to be reserved for Scandinavia, the Little Entente, and Latin America.

THE LEAGUE AND OPIUM TRAFFIC.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.

Geneva.—The report on the traffic in opium and other injurious drugs has been presented by Prince Charoon of Siam to the 5th Commission of the League of Nations Assembly. The Commission has decided to submit a resolution to the Assembly inviting Governments to apply a system of import and export certificates, also to supply information regarding the requisite quantity of the drugs for each country for National consumption.

Professor Gilbert Murray desired that the details should state the amount consumed per hundred thousand inhabitants.

The Commission hoped that America would appoint a delegation on the Opium Commission.

HUNGARY APPLIES FOR ADMISSION TO LEAGUE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Geneva.—Hungary has applied for admission to the League of Nations.

PREMIER'S SPEECH.

SUBVERSIVE OF HIS MAJESTY'S DECLARATIONS

RESOLUTION IN ASSEMBLY.

PASSED INSPITE OF OFFICIAL OPPOSITION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, Sept. 8.

The Legislative Assembly Chamber had to-day an appearance witnessed only on special occasions. The public gallaries were crowded to the full, the visitors attentively listened to the long, exciting, and highly interesting debate on the Premier's speech, which occupied the whole day. The order paper contained Mr. Agnihotri's resolution and eight amendments each one of which only differed in the form as to how their protest against the speech should be expressed. At the opening the house was not as full as was expected, perhaps on account of the incessant rain since early morning.

MR. AGNIHORTI'S RESOLUTION.

Exactly at 11-30 a.m. Mr. Agnihotri moved his resolution requesting the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State for India to make a specific declaration ratifying the Declaration of August 1917 and repudiating the statements made by Mr. Lloyd George on the 4th August 1922 characterising the reforms as an experiment and, also, to take necessary steps for an early grant of full Dominion Self-government to this country.

Mr. Agnihotri having moved the resolution, Mr. Subrahmanyam opposed it. In his opinion the resolution was no better than the resolutions and speeches made at public meetings or opinion expressed in the Press. There was no legal or constitutional authority in the resolution to force the Prime Minister to retract the statements he had made. Time and again it was the good offices of statesmen like Mr. Lloyd George that had helped Indians to go on. For all practical purposes the nods and assents of the Premier were quite enough (loud ironical cheers).

Mr. Kamat objected to the form of Mr. Agnihotri's resolution but endorsed the sentiments underlying it. He did not feel apprehensive about the Premier's threat because he did not believe India would ever surrender what she now possessed.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas whole-heartedly condemned the Premier's speech.

Mr. Darcy Lindsay thought that whatever justification there might have been for the apprehensions roused by the Premier's speech, there was no ground for it after a thorough and clear pronouncement made by the Viceroy. This resolution, if passed, would be a technical error and would alienate the sympathy of those in England who were now ready to help her onward. Amidst laughter the speaker challenged the right of Mr. Lloyd George to dictate to the Indian electorate as to who would be returned to the Councils as their representative.

When the Assembly reassembled after lunch Mr. Yamin Khan differed from Mr. Subrahmanyam in his view that there was no use of passing resolutions which were recommendations and wondered what then was left for the Assembly to do.

Dr. Gour expressed his readiness to accept Viceroy's explanation that there was to be no going back upon the policy of reforms, but his objection remained to the other parts of the Premier's speech.

HOME MEMBER'S DEFENCE.

At this stage a long reply on behalf of Government was given by Sir William Vincent whose whole tenure of speech and central arguments were the same as those put forward by him yesterday in the Council of State on a similar resolution. The Home member deprecated the language used in reference to that great leader of men, the Premier of Great Britain. It was ungrateful for the Assembly which owed its existence to his Government. He emphasised that the speech however worded it might be did not conflict with the solemn declarations and all doubts should have been removed by the message transmitted by the Premier through the Viceroy. The resolution as worded was such as to place Government in an unconstitutional position in communicating to the Home Government a censure on its head. He impressed on the House that self-Government could come only either by force or through the British Parliament. If it was to be attained through the latter it meant that they could not afford to alienate sympathies of British people. But the resolution if carried would make the position worse at a time when there was great need for efforts to counteract the bad effect created on British public as result of recent events in India and was it fair that the Premier who had paid such compliments to the Assembly, should be condemned by them in return? The Home member next examinel at length the portions of the speech which was highly objected. He said that reforms were as a matter of fact experiment and that the Premier was merely repeating the provisions of law in saying that obstructive tactics of Non-cooperators would make them reconsider the whole situation. That was true. He asked the House supposing Non-cooperators refused all grants and proposed to obstruct Government in every possible way, would it not require reconsideration of the whole situation? The speaker, however, did not believe that such a state of things would happen. He had great faith in the future of this country and believed that future assemblies would maintain traditions of the existing House and that Non-cooperators would not get in large numbers.

WHAT PREMIER HAD IN HIS MIND.

Coming to Premier's reference about civil service the Home Member conjectured that when the Prime Minister spoke on the subject, he had in his mind the collapse of Rus-

TURKS' MARCH ON SMYRNA.

GREEKS' OFFER TO EVACUATE ASIA MINOR.

ALLIES AGREE NOT TO INTERVENE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.

The Kemalist forces have reached Salikli. A corps of the Turkish cavalry twentyty-two thousand strong, after the capture of Eudemiche, have proceeded in the direction of Smyrna, where they are expected to arrive in a few days.

(Salikli is a town situated about 60 miles due east of Smyrna on the Smyrna—Afiun Karahissar railway.)

There are decided indications that the Greeks have been preparing to make a stand outside Smyrna where the situation is calmer, and whence it is reported that the Greeks are making an effort to organise defence of the town.

It is reported that the towns of Manisa and Kassaba are in flames.

British marines are guarding gas-works and the National Bank of Turkey in Smyrna.

ITALY'S SUGGESTION.

Italy has sent a Note suggesting that the Venice Conference should be held as soon as possible after September, 15th.

KING CONSTANTINE'S DEPARTURE.

Reuter reports from Paris that King Constantine has left Athens for an unknown destination.

(Manisa is a town, 20 miles north-east of Smyrna.)

TURKS MARCHING ON MANISSA,

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 8

Paris.—A sensational list of Turkish captures is given in a telegram from Adana which states that the Turkish troops have reached the Aegean Sea presumably south of Smyrna and are marching on Manissa. They have hitherto captured, it is declared, 700 guns, 11 aeroplanes and 2,000 machineguns.

EVACUATION OF ASIA MINOR.

GREEK GENERAL STAFF STUDYING PROBLEM.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Athens.—It is stated that the order for the evacuation of Asia Minor has not yet been given but the Chief of the Staff is studying the problem of effecting evacuation under the best conditions. The reported departure of King Constantine is untrue. The Representatives of Allies have called on the Foreign Minister and recommended the adoption of measures to prevent disorders on the part of the Greek army in Smyrna which might be liable to produce reprisals by the Kemalist troops.

LONDON, Sept. 7.

Constantinople.—The Greeks have evacuated several districts on the Asiatic shore of the Dardanelles. A detachment of the Turkish gendarmerie is being sent thither to maintain order.

The Allies have informed the Angora Government that Greece is prepared to evacuate Asia Minor on condition that an armistice is immediately concluded.

SITUATION IN SMYRNA CRITICAL.

GREEK TROOPS ARRIVE FROM THRACE.

LONDON, Sept. 7.

Smyrna.—The situation here is becoming critical, and several British families hav left. Admiral Brock has put a number merchant ships at the disposal of Britishers, and he has posted destoryers to cover embarkation.

The French and Italian authorities, besides landing marines to protect their nationals, have called upon all their male citizens to serve in a volunteer force.

The Greek troops with Venizelist officers have arrived from Thrace, and, consequently the Greeks hope to be able to resist the Turkish advance.

The remainder of the French fleet is expected to arrive to-night.

A trouble is feared if relief measures for refugees are not taken.

GREEK GOVERNMENT RESIGNS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Athens.—The Greek government has resigned.

FUTURE OF CONSTANTINOPLE AND STRAITS.

LONDON, Sept. 7.

The Kemalist successes in Anatolia have suddenly confronted the Allies with the grave problem as to the future of Constantinople and the Straits. The French and British Governments are, without doubt, seriously preoccupied with the question, which the Press of both the countries are keenly discussing.

A section of the French Press openly advocates the re-instatement of the Turks into the Straits, but the latest news from Paris suggests that the stiff terms proposed by the victorious Turks have alarmed the French, while an important factor which has been overlooked is the Little Entente, which has opposed the enlargement of Turkish territory in Europe.

The English Press generally insists upon the freedom of the Straits and security for the Greek and Armenian Christians, while it refuses Turkey any territorial re-admittance into the European system.

EMERGENCY CABINET MEETING.

Marquess Curzon came up to London from the country to-day to attend an emergency Cabinet meeting, over which Mr. Lloyd George presided and at which the situation in the Near East was discussed.

CONFUSION IN GREEK RANKS.

The Greek General Tricoupis was apparently captured three days before he was appointed Generalissimo—a fact that indicates the confusion which prevails in the retreating Greek army.

BRITISH CABINET'S DISCUSSIONS.

ALLIES NOT T INTERVENE.

The prolonged discussion at the Cabinet Council to-day was mainly devoted to the Turco-Greek operations. It is understood, from a reliable information, that it was agreed that at present there was no prospect of intervention, and it did not appear to place their good offices at the disposal of the combatants. It was also agreed, however, that anything that could properly be done later would gladly be undertaken by the Powers, either individually or associatedly. (These conclusions were reached before the publication of the Greeks' offer to evacuate Asia Minor.)

EVACUATION OF BRITISH SUBJECTS.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

It is announced in London that the British naval forces at Smyrna are already evacuating the British subjects to Malta and Cyprus. The British authorities are also attending to the Swiss and Dutch interests, and are willing to perform similar services for other nations. They will also assist the Greeks, if absolutely necessary.

Field-Marshal Lord Plumer, Governor of Malta, is going to Constantinople from Malta, but his visit is, in no way, connected with the present operations.

LONDON MARKET AFFECTED.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

A considerable volume of insurance on property in Smyrna has affected the London market. Three pounds sterling per cent for a month is quoted against the damage by war, riot, or civil commotion, on well warehoused property of approved owners.

CAPTURE OF GREEK GENERALS.

LONDON, Sept. 7.

An Angora message says that the new Greek Generalissimo, Tricoupis, and sever other Greek Generals were captured on September 2nd, and taken to the Kemalist Headquarters, where they are being treated as guests of Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

HOW THEY WERE TRAPPED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 8.

An official communique admits that Generals Tricoupis Digenis and four Colonels were taken prisoners. General Polimenakos has been appointed Commander-in-Chief. Measures for the reconstruction of the army include the merging of four divisions of the first Army corps with four divisions of the second corps. Reports from Adana, describing the capture of Tricoupis, show that the latter accompanied by his whole staff was unaware of the approach of the Turks and was calmly arranging plans when the sentry dashed in and announced that the Turkish cavalry had arrived. The whole staff was trapped.

KEMAL PASHA'S VICTORY.

CALCUTTA CITIZENS' CONGRATULATIONS.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Sept. 6.

A crowded meeting of the citizen of Calcutta was held on the 6th instant at Halliday Park to celebrated the glorious victories achieved by the valiant Turks against the Greeks.

The following resolutions were enthusiastically adopted.

GURU-KA-BAGH.

POLICE EXCESSES.

GURDWARA COMMITTEE'S RELIEF MEASURES.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

AMRITAR, Sept. 8.

The situtiion in connection with Guru-Ka-Bagh continues to grow in seriousness and extent, and must be considered as serious. To say that the situation remains unchanged is to convey an imperfect and altogether erroneous impression of the facts. Judging from outward appearances, a casual observer might form an opinion that the grim tragedy which is being enacted from day to day at Gurdwara, Guru-ka-Bagh, and on the road to it will not see an early end. This is indeed true to a partial extent for the same routine is followed practically by every one concerned.

Every morning a Jatha, about a hundred strong, appears at Akal Takht, dedicates itself to the service of the Guru, pledges itself to non-violence, in word and deed, and marches in the direction of Gurdwara Guru-ka-Bagh, chanting sacred hymns. Their progress is arrested on the road at a distance varying from two to eight miles, when they are treated as an unlawful assembly, and force is applied to disperse them by the Additional Police under a Magistrate. Police officers concerned may claimed that the force applied in various shapes and forms is the minimum that they consider necessary but it must not be ignored that beating incidents have been witnessed on many occasions by large bodies of men of all classes, and, latterly, Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya and several Press representatives have been eye-witnesses to the harrowing tragedy enacted. Their testimony is that when the progress of the Akalis checked they are ordered to turn back and that those who refuse and express their intention to proceed to their Gurdwara are pounced upon by the police and laboured by sticks until they become unconscious. It is further alleged that they are then dragged to the side of the road into the lowlying ground. When they are thus disposed of they are immediately attended to, and "first-aid" is rendered to them by medical attendents serving under the Gurdwara Committee and who are present there with motor ambulance lorries a little distance behind the Jatha. In one instance some fifty men, regaining consciousness after the first-aid had been rendered, refused to go back until some hours later they had been given a second beating. Then the motor lories began transporting the wounded to the Gurdwara Committee's improvised hospitals at Amritsar which, with the present conveyances takes several hours to reach.

A visit round these improvised hospitals in the Guru-ka-Bagh adjoining the Golden Temple and the Akalis' Garden, Amritsar, shows the gigantic character of the arrangements. Patients are accomodated in three wards called Kharaksingh, Mahtabsingh, and Chabbal Brothers Wards, respectively, under huge pendals with over three hundred beds in all. The Committee has been fortunate in securing the services of three Indian doctors qualified in the West, two medical graduates of the Punjab University, fourteen sub-assistant surgeons and homoeopathists and twenty-five compounders working honorarily, several of whom are available at all hours of the day and night. There is a consensus of opinion that Amritsar has risen to the fullest heights in providing comforts for these wounded in the shape of cots, bed-clothes, milk fruits, etc. Permission to visit or serve them is conditional on the wearing of khaddar. Those not so clad are turned back. Hence, khaddar market has been brisk last week. In the meantime not a single day passes without one or more Akalis' Jathas from different towns pouring into Amritsar to await their turn to proceed to Guru-ka-Bagh. The situation is reported still as grave. The Gurdwara area is practically an island being cordoned of from the rest of the world where no supplies can reach except by a desparate and the secret measure for the occupants, nearly sixteen hundred in number, and who are driven to brind such scanty quantity of corn as has managed to reach them. Pandit Malaviya who reached the place by a special, permit after being turned back on one occasion, was visibly moved at the sufferings of the band and could scarcely express himself.

CONDEMNATION BY COUNCIL MEMBERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

AMRITSAR, Sept. 8.

Dispersal of Akali jathas by police with the aid of lathis is still going on in connection with the Guru-ka-baga affair. The injured Akalis are being removed to Amritsar by motor cars.

A meeting of the Sikh Members of the Punjab Legislative Council was held to consider the present situation and resolutions were passed condemning in strong terms, the action of police which they characterised as brutal, merciless, unBritish, and illegal; and requesting the Governor to visit the place personally. A deputation of the Sikh members of Council was also asked to wait upon H. E. as soon as possible to place the whole facts before him. Government was requested to introduce a Gurdwara Bill acceptable to the Sikhs in the special session of the Council without further delay.

POLICE TERRORISM IN SIKH VILLAGES.

PLIGHT OF WOUNDED AKALIS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

AMRITSAR, Sept. 7.

Jathadar Akalidal has been arrested to-day Risaldar Rawgodsingh of Gundaspur district has been elected Jathadar in his place. In the course of a press communique the Shromani Gurdwara Committee states that on account of police terrorism in villages around Guru-ka-Bagh the situation is growing very serious. Two persons have, it odds, already died it is alleged as the result of beating. People are being beaten on mere suspicion of carrying provisions for the Sikhs at Guru-ka-Bagh. The communique concludes thus:—"The people have patiently borne all these sufferings so far. But all are not so well disciplined and self-restrained as Akalis and it is feared that the indiscriminate and wanton repression of the inoffensive villages, especially the insults offered to their women might prove too much for them. The Shromani Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee therefore warns the Government that if in spite of the attempts of the Shromani Committee, any violence occurs in villages the Government alone would be responsible". The Shromani Committee mentions the interesting fact that thirty-three per cent of the Sikhs wounded by the police are military men who have served Government in the great war. In an appeal for funds for medical relief the Shromani Gurdwara Committee mentions that the number of the Sikhs wounded is increasing daily and has reached the enormous figure of about seven hundred and three. Well-equipped hospitals are being maintained by the Committee at a cost of Rs. 2,000 per day. The whole expense has been borne hitherto mainly by the citizens of Amritsar. The Committee hopes that the outside public too will add their share of contributions in aid of this work of mercy.

CHIEF KHALSA DIWAN'S CONDEMNATION.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

AMRITSAR, Sept. 8.

The Chief Khalsa Diwan, Amritsar, an important organisation of Sikh cooperators, many of whose members witnessed police doings at Guru-ka-bagh and several of whom had sad experience of police attack on bystanders on August 4, has passed the following significant resolutions:—(1) Chief Khalsa Diwan strongly condemns the excesses committed by police and wishes to make it clear that if this repression continues there is danger of the dissatisfaction which is already spreading being intensified. The Diwan expects the responsible officers to stop these forthwith. (2) That the pulling of hair and beard wounds the religious susceptibilities of the Sikhs and is worse than hard beating; (3) That the Chief Khalsa Diwan sincerely sympathises with those who have submitted to these excesses with complete composure in the cause of Gurdwara reform and prays to the Guru to grant them more sikhi sidaq another resolution expects Government to pass a Gurdwara Bill acceptable to the Sikhs and requests the panth to urge on Government by all constitutional methods to expedite the legislation.

AKALIS CONGRATULATED.

The Committee of the Parsi Rajkeya Subha expresses its sincere admiration for the patience and forbearance with which the Akalis are pursuing their righteous cause and confirms its faith in the principle of Non-violence which is sure to bring them success.

TROUBLE IN IRAQ.

BRITISH FORCE ENCOUNTERS IRREGULARS.

KING FEISUL ENDORSES SIR PERCY COX'S ACTION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.

A serious casualty roll of sixty-seven has occurred to the British force in an encounter in Iraq, arising from a Turkish inroad.

Two hundred Turkish Irregulars, who have for some time been occupying the Kurdish hills, moved down to Ronia (?) where they were joined by the neighbouring Kurds. On August 31st, they sharply engaged a small column of the Kurdish and Assyrian levies, who were supported by a company of the 15th Sikhs and a section of the Indian Pack Battery.

The Indians behaved with utmost gallantry. The decision to withdraw to a position at Kov Sanjak was effectively carried out and covered by Air Force cooperation.

CASUALTIES.

Two British, and one Indian, officers were wounded. Fourteen Indians were killed, eleven wounded, and seven are missing. Thirteen levies were killed and nineteen wounded.

Situation in all other provinces in Iraq is satisfactory.

The British withdrawal, from a difficult hill country, was due to very bad behaviour of the Kurdish levies.

In consequence of the disturbed state of the neighbouring district owing to the Turkish incursion, the Air Force machines safely collected 67 British officials and their families over a wide area in Soleimaaiyam district in a single day.

The Colonial Office reports that the situation in Baghdad has greatly improved.

KING FEISUL'S ENDORSEMENT.

King Feisul has endorsed the action taken by the British High Commissioner, Sir Percy Cox, at the end of August, while the former was ill, and stable elements of the community have welcomed it.

The Turkish inroad arises from causes unconnected with Iraq.

INDIANS IN CANADA.

LONDON, Sept. 8.

Ottawa.—Mr. Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada, has written to Mr. Sastri promising that at the earliest favourable moment, Government will submit to Parliament Mr. Sastri's request for the enfranchisement of Indians equally with the Canadians. The letter points out that in eight out of nine Canadian provinces, the Indians already enjoy Federal franchise rights identical with those applicable generally to the Canadians.

CABLE ITEMS.

Geneva.—Persia has officially presented her candidacy for a seat on the Council of the League of Nations.

THE PARSI RECORD.

(BY A PARSI.)

According to a traditional calendar, which like the traditional history of the Parsis is erroneous, the Parsis enter upon their 1292nd New Year day on Sunday 10th. The Parsi era is calculated from the date of the accession to the throne of the last Zoroastrian sovereign of Persia, Yazdgard III, who ascended the throne of Iran on the 16th June 632 A.D. The empire was then in a condition of hopeless decadence, moral corruption and priestly tyranny. At the first virile impact from the hardy Arabs of the desert the great House of Sasan collapsed like a house of cards. And Parsi tradition, generally unreliable, has no record of the last resting place of the ill-starred Yazd-gard. It is only from the foreign historians that we read of his unspeakably tragic fate,—how he was betrayed by his coreligionists, whom history has branded as Khuda-kushan or "King-Slayers" and how his mangled body was given a wayfarer's grave by a Christian prelate.

Non-Sectarian Charities.

The past Zoroastrian year has as usual been conspicuous by a magnificent flow of philanthropy. The Lady Jerbai N. Wadia surrendered nearly 75 lakhs of rupees to supply a dire need of a community a large portion of which are threatened with a housing famine. Another large scheme of communal welfare relates to 25 lakhs donated by Mr. Merwanji Cama, a graduate of the old sound school of cool thinkers, for the foundation of a college for the education of the youth designed to be the spiritual ministers to their community. The Parsi priesthood is neither more or less affected by the prevailing forces of time-spirit. There are men of learning. There are men of piety. A few combine both. But a large percentage of the sacerdotal clan is steeped in ignorance, making remunerative ritual an superstition to do the duty of religion. The Tatas gave of their abundance towards non-Parsi causes, sending out several Bengalis and others to Europe for higher education. The Wadias and others contributed substantially to Malabar Relief. The Sir Ratan Tata charity disbursements extended to Persia with no sectarian restrictions. Connected with the Parsi religious affairs is the departure sought to be introduced in the traditional method of disposal of the dead,—a measure which has evoked keen feelings and does not promise to be ever popular.

Political Activities.

In the political sphere Parsis have achieved more than appears on the surface. The Parsi Rajkiya Sabhah enabled important speeches to be made on the Turkish problems and drew the sympathy of all the Indian community towards the much maligned Turks and with the guiding co-operation of Mr. Marmaduke Pickthall illumined the darkened nooks of the Near East problems which obscured the rights of the Turks and magnified the services of the Greeks to the Allies. The Parsis largely control the vernacular press of the city which is generally conducted on nationalistic principles. While the majority of the Parsi newspapers represent advanced politics, dailies like the "Bombay Samachar" keep particularly abreast of the times and cultivate fearless sane political opinion, leading to firm inter-communal concord.

The riots and the Mahatma.

An extraordinary occurrence in the placid business life of the Bombay Parsis were the unfortunate riots which broke out in November 1921. Their causes, immediate and remote, are not so transparent as Government communiques and Secretarial edicts would make out. The one salient and most grateful feature of the tragic episode was the stand made by the Mahatma Gandhi against outrages and unprovoked assaults on individual Parsis and Parsi families. The comparative insecurity of Parsi life and property, and the insoucience or the helplessness of the authorities to render them timely succour has opened the eyes of the youth to existence of undesirable potentialities. The Parsis long for most cordial relations with all their sister communities. They have been awakened to the necessity of paying attention to their neglected physique. The tireless attempts of Mr. Ratansha Dadachandji in the direction of developing healthier bodies for the Parsis will have earned him the gratitude of future generations. An impetus was also lent by the outbreak of riots to the enrolment of Parsis in the auxiliary and other battalions.

Reunion.

Perhaps the greatest event of all, however was the resumption of the relationship of the Indian Parsis with their sympathetic kinsmen in Persia. The self-sacrificing travels of Dr. Minouchehr Dady and his interviews with the ruling authorities in Persia have established two facts, which the interested bureaus of telegraphic information used hitherto successfully to obscure. The trade routes are safe, and the enlightened Persian Mussalman of to-day is an Iranian first and a follower of a religious creed in the second place. Patriotism is triumphing over other considerations. Since the ancestors of the Parsis of India left the old country, unwilling to pay the tax that was imposed on them as a protected subject (Zimmi) but more because their life was made unendurable by their own countrymen who had fore-sworn their faith, for the first time in history, thanks to the small group of men who encouraged Dr. Dady, Indian Parsis have received direct and solemn messages of esteem and affectionate invitation which the enlightened Persians have issued to their separated kindred.

PARSI NEW YEAR'S DAY.

AN EARNEST REQUEST.

The Gokhale Education Society has after a struggle for nearly two years completed an independent beautiful building for its school in Bombay at a cost of about Rs. 1,20,000. Out of this total cost the Society has been able to raise Rs. 1,10,000. Thus the Society is yet in need of Rs. 10,000 only to pay off the bills of those dealers who were kind enough to give us material on credit. That the Society was able to face the hardest of times as nothing but the indication of the kind appreciation made by the public and their generous support. After having helped us to get this amount of over a lakh of rupees we are quite confident that we will also be helped by the generous people of this city to raise the balance required to pay off the small debt that remains to be paid.

With the advent of the Parsi New Year it is hoped that this our expectation will meet substantial encouragement. The New Year's day is generally among the Indian communities the season of charity. The Parsi community has always extended its helping hand to all public benevolent institutions and have never restricted their charity on any communal basis as is evinced by the large munificent funds distributed by Messrs. Wadia, Sir Shapurji, Sir Tata and others who have made their names immortal. I. therefore, appeal to all philanthropic and generous Parsi ladies and gentlemen to contribute their mite to this building fund of our Society on their New Year Day, to make up this deficit of Rs. 10,000 only.

TURKS' MARCH ON SMYRNA.

solved to the satisfaction of the Muslim world.

That this meeting expresses its keenest sense of indignation against the present British Cabinet which has once more given proof of unmitigated enmity against the holy institution of Khilafat and has shown a total disregard of the feelings and sentiments of the Muslims of India by sending warships to Smyrna at this critical juncture and thereby showing an open and shameless partiality to the barbarous Greeks.

BOMBAY MUSSALMANS' CONGRATULATIONS.

WARNING TO BRITISH CABINET.

A meeting of the Mussalmans of Bombay was held under the presidency of Mr. Moazzam Ali, Secretary Central Khilafat Committee in Jakaria Mosque, after the prayers specially fixed for the occasion. Mr. Moazzam Ali delivered a reasoned speech on the present situation.

Mr. Zahur Ahmed, in moving the following resolution delivered a forceful speech on the Near Eastern question and the attitude of the British Cabinet. Mr. Abdur Rahman Sheak, and Mr. Ashfaq Ali in supporting the resolution dwelt on the great sacrifices made by the Turks.

RESOLUTION.

This meeting of the Mussalmans of Bombay assembled in Jakarya Masjid for the purpose of offering prayers, thanksgiving, celebrating the unparalleled and brilliant victory of the Turks over the Greeks and offering prayers for the souls of all those brave Turkish soldiers and Mujahidin who have courageously laid down their lives for the liberation of Turkey and Islam and touchingly recording its deepest sympathy for their families, sends heartiest congratulation to His Excellency Ghazi Mustafa Kemal Pasha and through him to the brave and gallant Turkish Army and Nation for the sweeping victory they have achieved against the Greeks and expresses profound admiration of the noble sacrifices which the whole Turkish nation has been all along making as a champion and preserver of the honour and faith of Islam and thereby strengthening and promoting the Khilafat cause.

The meeting, by pledging itself further assures the Turkish Nation of its resolve to carry on the religious struggle until the Khilafat wrongs are completely righted and the Khilafat cause rendered completely secure.

It further resolves to warn the Prime Minister and the British Cabinet of the direc and unpleasant consequences which the policy of espousing the Greek cause or thwarting the Turks from reaping the just fruits of their victory is likely to produce in India in as much as the patience of the Mussalmans of India having been long and sorely tried is well-nigh exhausted.

ITS APPLICABILITY TO AGITATORS.

The Bezwada correspondent of the "Hindu" says that about a dozen non-co-operators of Akiripalli, Nuzvid Taluq, were put up before the local Sub-divisional Magistrate, under section 110 Cr. P. C. The Magistrate, after a lengthy trial, held that there was no case made against the accused and acquitted all. In the course of his judgment, says the correspondent, the Magistrate remarked "I can find no precedent in law for the application of 110 Cr. P. C. to political agitators, however dangerous they may be to the community, unless specific evidence of breaches of the peace are available against each of them."

According to the conditions of the race there are compulsory stops of one and half hours at each control, while at Glasgow the starting point for to-morrow's returning flight the aeroplanes will remain during the night.

MONTAGU'S SILVER REPORT.

LONDON, Sept. 7.

Montagu's silver report says that Indian bazaars have been the main feature factor of this week's market. Buying orders from here at the beginning of the week, coming on a poorly supplied market, gave firm tone, but yesterday's offerings from the Continent and America, with some re-selling from India caused a sharp fall.

Calcutta and Bombay bazaars are reported to have been buyer and seller, respectively, on the same day. Renewed buying, to-day, by Calcutta bazaars for prompt shipment caused advanced prices at the spot quotation, being a premium of one-eighth penny over that for the forward delivery. It does not seem probable that the difference ill be maintained after the departure of he outgoing steamer.

RESTRICTION OF RUBBER TAPPING.

PREMIER'S SPEECH.

sia and Austria. With his wide experience of European affairs, he realised the disastrous effect in Russia of the break in the constitution by the removal of executive machinery.

The Premier seemed to him to be contemplating to guard India against such abrupt collapse which had been the ill-fate of Russia to suffer. Otherwise the policy of Indianisation stood where it was. He added "I want to make one point quite clear, that His Majesty's Government's decision to retain a substantial element of British Civil Service was not intended and will not conflict with the policy of increasing the association of Indians in that service. The steel-frame consists of steel made in England as well as in India but it will have to be of approved capacity." The Home Member referred to the O'Donnell Circular and declared that Government of India did not therein commit itself to any decision. In fact, the decision, on the subject solely concerned the Home Government. Proceeding, Sir William Vincent asked the House to consider seriously whether it was ready to contemplate the effect of the withdrawal of all British assistance.

As for the demand for the grant of immediate responsible government he seriously asked whether India was ready for it. Had she her own army and her navy? Had she an educated electorate? Did the masses understand constitutional Government? Had they any sense of civic responsibility like the people in other Dominions? Were not the races, languages and other barriers still to be surmounted? Democratic Government was a Government by majority. Did the minorities in India contemplate the effect of Government in India where the will of the majority would be the law of the land? Was it evolution or stampede that was wanted? He asked the Assembly to reject the resolution on the ground that India, at the present stage of her development, was not ready for that great change.

FINANCE MEMBER'S OPPOSITION.

Sir Malcolm Hailey felt that in the matter of questioning the faith of the Premier and attacking him the resolution and amendments were substantially the same. He repeated that British goodwill alone could grant further reforms. He had come back from England only the other day and he could speak with a special knowledge of the feelings in England. What he found there was that almost all sections of English opinion were taking great interest in India and that among all sections very great apprehensions had been caused by the recent course of affairs in India. The British people were not influenced by what took place in the legislature but what happening in the whole of India. Untoward events had their effects on them. The activities of the Non-cooperators especialy with regard to the Prince of Wales' visit, had aroused the feeling in Britain that India was giving way to anarchical policy. They considered that the state of things in India was not sound. When such was the existing feeling in England, would the Assembly gain friends there by an attack on Mr. Lloyd George? In Home politics, they might talk in whatever vein they liked about themselves but British people would resent an outside attack on such a great leader as Mr. Lloyd George, holding a unique position in Europe. The purpose of the House in expressing dissatisfaction over the general tenour of the Premier's speech had been served and it would be of no use to express it in the form of a resolution. Concluding, the Finance Member informed the House that the British people, at present, despite their apprehensions, had goodwill towards India whom they would be glad to grant the benefits of a system evolved by themselves. The resolution, if passed, would do no good because there was nothing definite aimed at but may conceivably do much harm. He left the House to choose which way it liked.

Mr. Agnihotri briefly replied accepting Mr. Rangachariar's amendment.

Sir William Vincent in winding up the debate repeated that the resolution, if passed, would do no good. He conceded that it would merely amount to this:—"That they were biting the hand that fed them."

RESOLUTION AS ADOPTED.

The resolution adopted read:—"This Assembly recommends to the Governor-General-in-Council that he may be pleased to convey a message from this Assembly to His Majesty's Government through the Secretary of State for India that it views with grave concern the pronouncement made by His Majesty's Prime Minister in the House of Commons on 2nd of August 1922 and it considers that the tenour of the whole speech and sentiments therein are subversive of the declarations made by His Majesty and His Majesty's responsible Ministers and that it is calculated to create serious apprehensions in the minds of this Assembly and of the people of this country both in the matter of attaining Swaraj and of the Indianisation of its services."

RESOLUTION PASSED.

By 48 votes against 34, the Legislative Assembly adopted, in the face of strong Government opposition, the above amended resolution.

QUESTIONS AND REPLIES.

At question time Sir William Vincent replying to Mr. Neogy regarding the apprehensions and uneasiness of the British Civil Servants on account of the constitutional changes in India stated that these memorials and representations had been addressed by some members of the service to the Government of India. The views contained in them had been forwarded to the Secretary of State with the opinion of the Government of India thereon. The Government of India were now not prepared to publish the correspondence which passed between the Government of India and the authorities in England on the subject, but Mr. Neogy's attention was directed to the copy of the Secretary of State's despatch published last April. The Government of India had seen the Reuter's message contradicting the allegations of the "Morning Post" regarding the Government of India's suggestion for abandonment of European recruitment and stating that the Government of India were closely corresponding with the authorities in White hall on the means of meeting the grievances of Civil Service and encouraging a good supply of the right class of British recruits.

Mr. Neogy in a supplementary question asked:—"To what extent the financial burden of India is likely to be increased if the proposals of the Government of India are accepted?"

Sir William Vincent:—"I am afraid I can't answer that question."

GURU-KA-BAGH.

Bhai Mansingh then moved for adjournment of the house to consider the situation at Guru-ka-Bagh in Amritsar District.

Sir William objected to discussion for two reasons, first, that the matter was provincial and secondly, that certain cases arising out of the situation were now sub-judice. He, however, promised to make a full statement about the situation on Monday next after ascertaining the facts from the Punjab Government.

The president ruled the motion out of order in view of the subject being sub-judice.

GREEK SITUATION.

The Home Member, also, informed the house that the general staff at army headquarter was prepared to supply any member with any information regarding the Greek situation.

The Home member, replying to an oral question by Mr. Abdur Rahim Khan said that according to information received up-to-date by the General Staff, the Greeks had sustained a defeat which might have far-reaching results. In fact it was within the bounds of possibility that it might result in the Greeks' evacuation of Anatolia under Turkish pressure.

SIMLA, Sept. 7.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Innes said Government did not deny the existence of grievances of third class passengers but it resented the implication that railway authorities had done nothing to remove them. The fact was that very many amenities and improvements had been already introduced. The Government had as a result of the observations of the Acworth Committee, made enquiries about how best to remove the grievances put forward by that committee. The enquiry was now completed and he hoped in due course to issue press notes showing how the position stood and what actions the agents of railways proposed to take.

Mr. Rangachariar felt that the Commerce Member had misunderstood the scope of the resolution. There was no enquiry demanded but merely a report as to how Government viewed the mover's suggestions.

Mr. Yamin Khan and Mr. J. N. Majumdar also supported the motion.

After further discussion the resolution was put and carried by a majority against Government opposition.

EMBARGO ON FOOD-GRAINS.

Sardar Gujjansingh moved the last resolution on the agenda paper urging the removal forthwith of restrictions imposed on export of wheat and other foodgrains, pulses and oilseeds from India.

Mr. Hullah, Revenue and Agriculture Secretary, said that at present there was no restriction on export of oilseeds and rice but there was a severe embargo on the export of other foodgrains and pulses. He also agreed that a permanent policy of embargo was wrong in principle. (Hear, hear.). If restrictions were continued there was danger of cultivators leaving sowing of foodgrains and taking to production of cotton and such other commodities. But Mr. Hullah made it quite clear that foreign markets were not favourable to Indian wheat. Government would like to wait till the end of this month when it would review the position and if favourable circumstances presented themselves, it would remove the embargo.

After the conclusion of Mr. Hullah's speech which was very favourably received by the House Mr. Harchandrai Vishindas moved an amendment to the original proposition asking that the embargo be removed at an early date rather than forthwith as proposed by Sardar Gujjan Singh.

The resolution as amended was then carried and the House, after five hours' sitting, adjourned till to-morrow when the Assembly would discuss the Premier's speech which was discussed in the Council of State to-day and which resulted in the rejection of the motion condemning that speech.

PROTEST AGAINST PREMIER'S SPEECH.

GOVERNOR DISALLOWS RESOLUTION IN LOCAL COUNCIL.

Mr. G. B. Trivedi, M.L.C., has been officially informed that his Excellency the Governor has disallowed under Rule 22 the following Resolution; which Mr. Trivedi had given notice of his intention to move in the local Legislative Council:—

"This Council recommends to H. E. the Governor that he be pleased to convey to His Majesty's Government the opinion of this Council that the recent pronouncement of the Prime Minister in the House of Commons at the time of the Service Debate is most inopportune and damaging to the cause of progressive realisation of Self-government and that unless some steps are taken forthwith to reassure India about the definite promises underlying the constitutional reforms as embodied in the Act of 1919, all moderate and Self-respecting public men who have tried assiduously to make the reforms a success will be in despair and it would be very difficult to restore the gradual and smooth march of the country along the path of steady and constitutional progress inside the Empire."

SITUATION IN MULTAN.

The Deputy Commissioner of Multan reported on Wednesday evening that the situation was still quiet and the conditions had improved, but there was still acute tension between the two communities. The number of deaths so far verified is only four. Cases of grevious hurt are not likely to exceed 100 and may be considerably less, but accurate figures cannot yet be given.

SURVEYORS AND SHIP REPAIRS.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Sailors are essentially kindly souls. They are courteous, and credulous, unjudicious and generous to a degree. They are great favourites of children, ready patronizers of hawkers; and easy game of gypsies! They are far more easily taken in by townsmen and traders than members of any other service. It is the kindliness of their heart, which is really a virtue, that acts as a weakness in matters of business. It is this same kindly spirit, that is evidently responsible for the silence of the Lloyd's Surveyor in respect of my pertinent question, whether a ship's surveyor can be a Promoter, Partner or Canvasser of a ship-repairing Company? Mr. Macfarlane is obviously reluctant to go into the matter, out of consideration for his brother surveyor. But in all fairness to his fraternity, he should institute inquiries, ascertain the correct position, and enlighten the shipping public on a point of great importance:—whether ships surveyor can dabble in ship-repairing schemes and concerns? Has Mr. Macfarlane consulted his brother surveyors in the matter? Has he consulted the Lloyd's Agents in Bombay, Messrs. James Finlay and Co., Ltd.? Or has he referred the matter for opinion to his Head Office Lloyd's London? It is time, that Mr. Macfarlane opened his lips and defined the position; for the subject is engaging the attention of many more people, than he can imagine.—Yours, etc.,

C. I. D. IN BOMBAY P. C. C.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—For many days a rumour has obtained currency re. an important matter connected with the Bombay P.C.C. to the effect that 40 per cent. of the members of the Committee belong to the C. I. D. The rumour, if true, is of grave moment. It is, therefore, absolutely necessary to appoint a committee to investigate the matter. The committee must go to the root of the question so that honest, innocent persons may not remain suspects, and the culprits be exposed. We learn from the latest and most confidential source that the evidence collected by the Congress Enquiry Committee in Bombay was supplied by these spies to the police. A committee should, therefore be appointed as soon as possible to bring out the truth of this matter.—Yours, etc.,

"REFORMS ONLY AN EXPERIMENT."

SIR W. VINCENT DEFENDS PREMIER.

MR. KALE'S RESOLUTION THROWN OUT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, Sept. 7.

In the debate on Mr. Kale's resolution re. the Premier's speech, Sir William Vincent spoke to the following effect:—

Sir William Vincent, the Home Member, in urging the mover to withdraw the resolution, said he realised that the Prime Minister's speech when first published in this country occasioned great misgivings in the minds of some. Since then, two notable events had occurred. India had the assurance of the Viceroy as to the meaning and intention of the Premier in making that speech and the solemn speech that had been delivered by the Viceroy on the opening day of the session. He congratulated the speakers, except one, on the moderation of their speeches. If there was one thing essential for the future of this country it was the goodwill of the British people and the sympathy, help and assistance of His Majesty's Government. (Hear, hear.) The very basis of the reformed constitution depended on that goodwill and any intemperate speech would tend to mar that good feeling and could not but have a mischievous effect.

"MISCHIEVOUS NON-COOPERATION MOVEMENT."

The Premier's speech was not a threat as some people thought, but a warning to a party hostile to Government and many members of which had openly stated that they would sever the tie between Great Britain and India. In these circumstances, was the speech of the Premier uncalled for? The mischievous Non-Cooperation movement had gone on for two years leading to violence and serious outbreaks requiring the use of His Majesty's troops. In one part of the country they heard of Moplah kingdom, in another a Sikh Raj, and in a third the cry of separation from the Empire. There had been systematic attempts at the loyalty of troops, endeavours to boycott all British trade, promotion of racial hostility, and lastly there was the despicable game of insulting the heir to the Throne. And this despicable game was done in spite of the great forbearance and patience of the Government of India and in the face of gravest warning from his Excellency the Viceroy about the probable effects thereof on the British mind. Considering the paucity of the electors at the last election and the wrecking of meetings held under the presidency of Modeates, the non-cooperators must have a very considerable following and if these people now came to the councils they would destroy the reforms and make the administration impossible. When they, in India, had been alarmed at this, how much more would have been the alarm of the people of England? "I am not afraid of any extremists entering the Councils. But no Prime Minister who is the guiding spirit in the British Empire could safely disregard them considering the difficulty which would be created in the administration. I said repeatedly and I say it again that the greatest enemy of political progress, industrial progress, and in fact, of every progress in this country, is Mr. Gandhi. The prospect, however, is more promising than it was sometime ago. I believe that the non-cooperation party has lost much of its power and that its influence is waning. I believe it is due to the return of sanity. At the same time, the important factor has been the enforcement of law and order to protect the citizens in the exercise of their normal rights. I am sure Government will continue to receive the support of this council." (applause).

"WHAT IS RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT?"

Proceeding the Home Member referred to the attacks that had been levelled at the Premier's use of certain expressions. The word "Trustee", the Home Member pointed out, had been used by His Majesty in giving assent to the Act. The word "Trust" was also used by Mr. Montagu. To say that it was a trust was no negation of responsible government. What was responnsible government?

Sardar Jogendra Singh:—You cannot define it. It is Swaraj.

Sir William Vincent:—I say responsible government is government responsible to the elected representatives. That is the only form of government that I can recognise.

Continuing, the Home Member acknowledged the tribute paid to the work of the British members of the Civil Service and stated that the question of British services would solve of itself with the growth of responsible government in India. "If you once have the assurance that you are going to have responsible government then everything else must follow as a matter of course. Development of self-governing institutions is the declared goal and the tendency must be for the services to adjust themselves more and more to the new altered conditions. But I say that continued assistance of the British service will be necessary in the working of the reformed constitution; otherwise, there will be disorder. Do you want to abolish the recruitment of European officers?

Mr. Samaldas: No, no.

Mr. Sethna:—No one has said so.

Sir William Vincent:—Sir, one member says that no one has said so. That member is a friend of British Government, but whenever there was any opportunity of attacking the British Government, or the British civil service he has been the first to seize it. O God, save us from such friends."

ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT.

The Home Member assured the house that there was no going back upon the solemn promises made. Seldom had there been a time when the assistance of Great Britain was more needed than the present. British capital was essential for the development of industrial enterprises. The assistance of Britain was the very foundation upon which their whole commercial and industrial prosperity was based. The assistance of British officers was necessary for the good government, peace and tranquility in the land. Lastly, the protection of the British army was essential for the very existence of this country. "I ask you not to antagonise His Majesty's Government and the people of Great Britain. Is it not the proper and wiser course of this Council to make renewed efforts to prove the wisdom and capacity of the people of this country, to show that India is worthy of the great trust, and to justify the hopes that have been expressed by those who have the welfare of this country at heart? The success of the legislature, this chamber and the other, have been admitted. Mistakes, I dare say, have been committed by the Government, as well as by the legislatures. They are inevitable. But it speaks volumes of the character of these chambers that there has been mutual cooperation and patience. It is wise, then to abandon that proper course and take a step which cannot but have mischievous results and lead to increased bitterness in England. Is it fair to weigh every word of the Premier's speech so meticulously as if they are in a statute? Why do you say that the statements of the Premier in his speech were sincere, while the assurance that he has conveyed is not? The declaration of twentieth August is there and there is no going back. I hope this Chamber will realise that and not take a step which will be hurtful to the good interests of this country."

MR. KALE'S RESOLUTION LOST.

After the Home Member's speech which he concluded with applause, Mr. Sethna gave a personal explanation. He challenged the statement of Sir William Vincent that he (Mr. Sethna) had consistently opposed British interests. Both in his private and public career he had always been in favour of the British connection and he believed that was for the good of India. (Applause.)

Sirdar Jogendra Singh then moved his amendment for addition to the resolution of the words "and that this Council affirms India's determination to attain Swaraj and to declare that the reformed constitution is the law of the land and not an experiment as the Prime Minister seemed to reply." He said the Prime Minister's speeches might come and go, but the King's words will remain throughout. Not only India wants England but England also wants India and said that his amendment only affirmed the determination of India to attain Swaraj.

At this stage the Council adjourned for lunch.

PROCEEDINGS AFTER LUNCH.

When the Council reassembled after lunch, Sir Umar Hayat Khan was the first to speak on the resolution and the amendment. He feared that Swaraj would mean another Government by the politically-minded class who would cut short the army that brought the reforms and remove the British Civil Service from India.

Sir Alexander Murray in his speech asked Sirdar Jogendra Singh to withdraw his amendment.

Mr. Raza Ali spoke in favour of the amendment.

Sir Leslie Miller opposed the amendment in a maiden speech which was generally well-received. Sir Leslie considered it as a threat of Non-Cooperation with Great Britain, unless they gave India Swaraj.

Sardar Jogendra Singh at this stage explained that the object of his amendment was not a threat.

"REFORMS ARE AN EXPERIMENT."

Sir William Vincent, replying to the amendment, quoted Lord Boyce and maintained that the reforms was an experiment. It was unfair and improper to read in the speech of the Premier any threat of going back upon the reforms, but it was a serious warning to the non-cooperators and extremists who might come at the next election and swamp the Councils with a view to wreck the reforms scheme. In conclusion the Home Member advised Sardar Jogendra Singh to withdraw the amendment. The amendment was put to vote and lost without being pressed to a division.

Mr. Raza Ali who had given notice of an amendment of an identical nature requested that it be not taken up.

DEBATE ON MR. KALE'S RESOLUTION.

The debate then turned upon the resolution of Mr. Kale.

Sir Arthur Froom regretted that moderate or liberal politicians in this country had shown little inclination to face the extremists, who wanted to come to the Councils and wreck the reforms. In his opinion the British Civil Service had received little encouragement from the Indian legislature and if as a result of to-day's discussion that important service was given encouragement then some would have been done.

Mr. Raza Ali, in supporting the resolution, referred to Sir William Vincent's condemnation of Mr. Gandhi and remarked that it was not fair for him to have done so without, at the same time, mentioning a word about Sir Michael O'Dwyer and Lord Sydenham. Alluding to the observations of the Home Member about the attempts of non-cooperators to mar the Prince of Wales' visit, he said that the Government of India or rather the Home Member was responsible for having arranged the visit to take place at a time when it was inadvisable. Mr. Raza Ali then complained that on the point of the British Civil Service being in perpetual rule which India so keenly resented and protested, no authoritative statement had been made in responsible quarters.

Mr. Samaldas, in supporting the resolution which only asked for the expression of the opinion of this House being conveyed to His Majesty's Government referred to the Home Member's charge against Mr. Sethna and said that it was unfair and unjust that for a few words which Mr. Sethna might have used in the heat of the debate, he should be looked upon as the enemy of British connection with India. The Prime Minister should have restrained his temper as the Home Member asked this House to restrain theirs.

Mr. Khaparde spoke very humorously on the debate. In his opinion there was a thorough misunderstanding on all sides.

Sir Dinshaw Wacha said everybody admits that the Premier has made a mistake. Every great statesman has made mistakes. Then why all this unnecessary hubbub. The sooner we forget this small incident, the better. I make my modest appeal to the mover of the resolution "rest, rest, the perturbed spirit may rest."

Sir Maneckji Dadabhoy agreed with Sir Dinshaw Wacha that the resolution had served its purpose and if further pressed may do more harm than good.

MR. KALE REFUSES TO WITHDRAW RESOLUTION.

Mr. Kale refused to withdraw his resolution. He said that if the Prime Minister had made a mistake concerning India, it was the duty of this Council to point out that and give expression to its opinion. There was a conflict in the Premier's speech between the interests of Reforms and interests of the Civil Service and yet no satisfactory explanation had been given to this House. Certain questions of salaries, etc., about the Civil Services might come up soon, as a result of the Premier's speech and this was therefore the psychological moment for this House to give expressions to its views on the Premier's speech and voice the feelings of the country.

Sir William Vincent ther replied to the debate. At the outset he was prepared to accept the assurance of Mr. Sethna which was repeated by Mr. Samaldas and Sir Arthur Froom and withdrew the statements he had made against Mr. Sethna. Referring to the debate, the Home Member assured that the question of the Civil Services would be solved by itself with the growth of self-governing institutions The Civil Services would always work for the success of the reforms as they had done in the past and it was not wise on the part of this Council to antagonise His Majesty's Government and the people at home. He trusted in the reputation of this Chamber for sobriety, judgment and wisdom. The resolution was then put to the vote and lost and was not pressed to a division.

In the earlier part of the day on the motion of Mr. Thompson, the Indian Extradition Act Amendment Bill and on the motion of Sir Muhammad Shafi the Indian Museum Bill were introduced. These Bills are intended to make very minor changes in the present law.

On the motion of Lord Rawlinson, the Hon. Mr. Jaffer, Sardar Jogendra Singh, Lala Ramsaran Das, Diwan Tekchand and Saiyid Fakhiruddin were nominated to serve on the Committee to consider the Cantonments House Accommodation Act Amendment Bill which was introduced in the Assembly yesterday.

The Council then adjourned till Monday.

THE LATE ACHARYA VIJAYA DHARMA SURI.

A GREAT JAIN PRECEPTOR.

(BY G. K, N.)

The greatest religious force in Gujarat and the foremost Jain preacher in India known to the Western world died at half past six at Shivapuri or Sipri near Gwalior on Tuesday mirning. The Acharya Vijaya Dharma Suri had been ailing for some months and his malady was feared to be mortal.

His lay name was Mulchand. He was born in 1868 of a humble Vaishya family of Mahuwa in Kathiawar and belonged to the Visha Shimali caste. His father was Ramchand and his mother Kamala Devi.

The boy was no father to the man. The childhood gave no promise of the spiritual and intellectual manhood. In the village school he was habitually irregular, indolent, inattentive. Mulchand was the despair of his school master. The Bania father at last took him away from the school in order to join him in his business. This was at ten; so early begin the responsiblities of life in India. The wayward boy grew into an unbridled youth, addicted to gambling.

One day by an unfortunate chance, which proved the most fortunate for his future, Mulchand lost heavily in a gambling stake. His parents reproved him with severity. The youth took the rating to heart. He turned his thoughts to things of the other world. For the Hindu repulsed by life and spiritually inclined there is always the monastic order ready to receive him. The ascetic at heart left for Bhavnagar and besought initiation at the hands of the revered Vridhi Chandraji, who referred him to his parents for permission. Ramchand and Kamala Devi were at first odurate but at last yielded to the unceasing importunities of Mulchand, who at the age of 19 abandoned the alternate joys and sorrows of life and entered the disciplinary course of a Jain monk of uniform calm.

The wordling reclaimed.

The listless dullard of the lay school was transformed into an extraordinarily bright youth. He took to his studies as fish takes to water. In a short time he acquired the Jain ritual, including the Pratikramana Sutra the difficult Sanskrit grammar of Saraswat Chandrika, applied himself to the sacred Magadhi tongue and obtained a profficiency which must have amazed his youthful compeers. A few years later he left Bhavnagar, and started on one of those evanglical peregrinations of which are at once the duty and the trial of the Jain monk,—barefooted, bareheaded, with no worldly belongings, putting up at the places of the faithful in villages, receiving food unasked, rejecting meals supposed to be specially prepared for him and his acolytes, all clad in white, and inviting, as the West would consider, endless and unreasonable troubles.

In 1900 Vijaya Dharma Suriji, as he now came to be designated visited his native village of Mohawe. His father had died. His mother was torn between happiness and sorrow. Her son had already made his name in the world. But she could not clasp him to a mother's bosom. For an ascetic may not look at a woman. Her touch is prohibited to him as is that of all gold and silver. The Acharya's subsequent life is an unbroken record of arduous travels and brilliant studies. There is hardly a village in Gujarat and scarcely a town all over India, excepting perhaps the south, where the Jain preceptor's name is not known mostly with reverence, always with love. There is his Jain Pathasalas at Benares where the teaching of the almost forgotten Magdhi is revived. His Yasho Vijaya Library, has issued numerous printed texts from paper manuscripts and palm leaves, lying in bhandars, which the jealousy of less liberal monks would not allow a lay Hindu, much less a Western eye to look at.

Pious pilgrimages.

In 1906 the Suriji visited Allahabad the long tour being performed on foot, where made a deep impression upon the Maharaja of Darbhanga. Proceeding further he familiarised himself with the spots hallowed by the memories of the Tirthankars, Pavapuri, Rajagriha, Sametshekhara. Dying at a comparative short age of 55, the Suri's name was gratefully familiar to every European or American, Jain or Buddhist scholar or even a tyro of Sanskrit. The Italian Tessitori, a genial spirit who unfortunately for researches in old Hindi, was cut off too young, found in the Jain master a congenial spirit whose learning solved the hard problems of eclesiastical literature or the minstrelsy of the bards of Rajaputana.

A European Tribute.

"I have known him as a scholar, I have known him as an orator" wrote Tessitori, "I have known him as a monk; and though he is not permitted to yield to feelings of worldly affection, I think I can say that I have also known him as a friend. In the cells of the Upashrayas I have sat by his side listening to his explanations of philological or philosophical difficulties which had been puzzling me; in the open halls of the Dharmasalas I have listened to his sermons delivered in Hindi or in Gujarati before a motionless and ecstatic audience, and have admired his simple and yet subtle and forcible eloquence; in the temples have been taken by him right before the marble idols and have read with him the Sanskrit inscriptions engraved on their basements. It is to him that I am indebted for having had an insight into the monastic life of the Jains which probably no European ever had before. At Shivaganj have seen him pull out the hair of his chief disciple, Indra Vijaya Upadhaya; in Udaipur I have seen him consecrate two new monks; in the Dharmashala of Ranakpur, where the evening dusk was fantastically lit up by fires blazing in the courtyard, I have watched him performing the Pratikramana with his monks; in the stony forests of the Aravalli I have accompained him in his Viharas, walking by his side in the middle of the cluster of his white-clad disciples; in Kathiawar I have entered with him the village of Talaja amongst the festoons, the flowers, scattering of rice and the Je Je's of the entire population, and have made with him the pilgrimage of the sanctuary on the top of the hill, without omitting to visit the ancient Buddhist caves which adorn the sides of the mountain."

His Confreres in the west.

Leumann, Jacobi, Hoernle, Guerinot, Hertel, and perhaps the greatest of them all, Sylvain Levi, all exponents of diverse phases of Indology who had personal relations with him, admired the Acharya's magnanimity and make profuse acknowledgments to his enlightened generosity and authority.

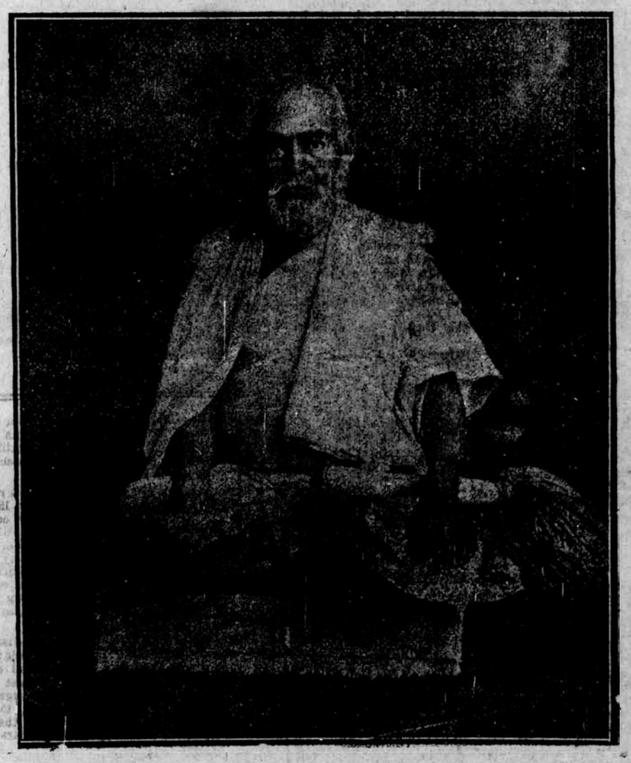
There will be many to appraise more adequately the scholarship of the great Jain preceptor as the evpounder of the Agamas, collateral Sanskrit and Pali literature, and that old Gujarati which under is inspiration Hertel is bringing back to its place in light. To me he was the pattern of an Oriental religious mind, which rose above all sectarian bias. Immersed in Jain principles, Vijaya Dharma Suri evinced not the slightest effort to win proselytes.

asked him once if it was not meritorious to attempt to bring within the pale erring outsiders. "Their time is not yet", he said and he reminded me of the profound dictum of Lord, then Mr. Singha, who told his compatriots that the son of political salvation would not rise a minute earlier because we watched for it all the night over. This or that creature, the Acharyaji taught, would accept the doctrine of the Jainas when spiritual evolution had prepared him or her for it. In one who has had opportunities of mingling with the leaders of diverse creeds of the world and who is no stranger to the myopic bias of ignorant Parsi, Brahmanic, Buddhistic or Jain sects, the conduct and character of the great Jain Acharya of catholic nobility, weaned from the wicked early ways of his youth by the tenets and discipline of Jainism, must evoke veneration for the religion which produced such lasting influence for good on him.

Heirs to his Loving-Kindness and learning.

The renowned Acharya leaves behind him large devoted lay-world. Some at least from among the thousands of Gujaratis that hung on his lips and pious merchants, who gave a way of their abundance at the suggestion of their divine-earned religious merit and performed works of public utility; and numerous ordained disciples like Indra Vijayaji, and Vidya Vijayaji, will all doubtless transmit onwards the inherited message of the most remorselessly consistent system of non-violence and compassion for animals the world has known.

GREAT JAIN SAINT AND PHILOSOPHER.



SASTRA VISARADA JAINACHARYA SRI VIJAYA DHARMA SURIJI, WHO DIED ON TUESDAY LAST.

SOLAR ECLIPSE FAIR AT KURUKSHETRA.

Ten lakhs of men will gather at Kurukshetra on the occasion of the solar eclipse fair. No arrangements have been made for social service. In spite of ill-health Swami Jagdishwaranand Bharati, Secretary, Sadhu Mandal has undertaken to organise Sewa Samitis into one Suraj Grahan Sewa Samiti. One thousand volunteers are required. Lodging has been arranged for them. All should bear travelling and food expenses. Rs. 2,000 are required. Money may be remitted to the Hukamchand Treasury. All Sewa Samitis should inform the date of arrival and the number of volunteers. Regular social service will begin on the 16th and continue till the 23rd instant.

MUNICIPAL VOTERS' LIST.

COST OF PRINTING: RS. 30,000.

At the September meeting of the local Municipal Corporation consideration will be given to the following letter from the Commissioner:—

"I have the honour to state that it is expected that the work of preparing the Voters' List will be completed by the end of August, and that as the Voters' List is to be published on the 9th October, quotations for printing both the List and the Final Election Roll were invited from the following presses:—

The "Times of India" Press.
The "Advocate of India" Press.
The "British India" Press.
The "Jam-E-Jamshed" Press.
"Sanj Vartman."

In view of the special nature of the work, only the largest presses could be expected to do it and hence quotations were invited from the above-mentioned presses only. The only quotation received is one from the "Times of India" Press. The rates quoted are Rs. 12-4-0 per page for 450 copies of the Voters' List and Rs. 10-8-0 per page for the same number of copies of the Election Roll. I am of opinion that the rates quoted by the press are fair and I request the sanction of the Standing Committee, under Section 69 (c) of the Municipal Act, to a contract being entered into with the press for the work at these rates. As each of the two publications will contain about 1,200 to 1,300 pages, the cost of printing both of them at the above rates will amount to Rs. 30,000 approximately. A sum of Rs. 3,000 has been provided in the current year's Budget for printing the Election Roll. The extra amount required is Rs. 27,000. I therefore request the sanction of the Standing Committee and the Corporation to the transfer of funds as shown in the accompanying statement. I shall approach the Corporation later for a further grant to meet the expenses of the General Elections."

rapid process of indianisation. It will take nine years before the Civil Service is fifty per cent. Indian. The educational service is already thirty-seven per cent. Indian; the P.WD. thirty-eight per cent. The thin end of the wedge is already pushed into the army.

India is poor and unaccustomed to heavy taxation. To an extent which the long-suffering British taxpayer can scarcely realise, she resents taxation. To-day she is firmly convinced that it is the unbearable burden of her alien garrison, both civil and military, which is bleeding her white. There is not a shadow of doubt that India would rather be ill-defended and inefficiently run than pay for an army and efficient administration. As soon as she is really mistress in her own house, she will employ less expensive servants. Already in Madras the principle that Indians must never accept less than Europeans for identical services has yielded to the exigencies of the Budget, and Indian Ministers only receive two-thirds of the amount received by Europeans, with an obvious premium on the appointment of Indians to future vacancies.

There is not the smallest danger to any existing contracts. It is difficult to believe that civil servants are genuinely afraid of losing their pensions. In any case, they are in a most favoured and undoubtedly secure position compared to any other Indian service. But everything in the political outlook shows that their hour has come. Since we have burned our boats, it is useless for Mr. Lloyd George to harp on their great beauty and value.

"DAILY NEWS."

The "Daily News" comments as follows on Mr. Gray's letter:—

Now that the text of the Indian Government's circular to the Provincial Governments on the recruitment of the Indian Civil Service is available here one is not surprised that there is consternation in Indian official circles at its publication .Discussing the outlook for the I.C.S. as self-government increases, it emphasises the diminished attraction of the service for Englishmen and the likelihood of a diminishing supply of able men. It is a prospect that has to be faced, but the public canvassing of it is only too likely to emphasise the tendency it is sought to forestall. On the other hand, the Prime Minister's recent suggestion that the service will be maintained with or without the approval of the coming democracy is at least as mischievous in an opposite direction its folly is trenchantly exposed in an article on this page by Mr. H. Gray. Either we mean India to control her own government or we do not. We cannot give self-government with one hand and take it back with the other. We believe the British connection is and will be too valuable to Indians for them to desire ultimately to relinquish it. But assuredly they, like our fellow-citizens in the other Dominions, intend, and ought, to have free choice of the servants who are to carry out the policies their elected representatives may lay down. Let us face the implications of our own free decisions and try to look pleasant about it And one of the first is the diminution of both the numbers and the responsibilities of the English members of the Indian Civil Service.

I. C. S. DOOMED!

PREMIER'S FUTILE THREATS.

"INDIA'S HEART SET ON SELF-GOVT."

Mr. H. Gray writes as follows in the "Daily News":—

It is clear that so far as India is concerned Mr. Lloyd George has been asleep for five years. In August, 1917, his Majesty declared, in the most emphatic terms, that India was to be granted complete self-government within the British Empire. In August, 1922, Mr. Lloyd George announced that Britain will never relinquish its trust, and it is inconceivable that India will ever be able to do without British civil servants. The two doctrines are incompatible.

Since India has been definitely promised a certain inheritance, as soon as she attains her majority, it is clear that the trusteeship must end, no matter how zealously and efficiently it has been fulfilled. When India obtains complete control of her own affairs, she may or may not desire to retain the services of British civilians, and they may or not desire to remain and carry through policies which they have not chosen. In any case, it will be a matter for India to decide.

India may, like Mr. Lloyd George, find herself "unable to conceive a period when she could dispense with the guidance and assistance of some nucleus of British civil servants." On the other hand, she may, and in her present frame of mind certainly will, think it not only possible, but extremely pleasant, to dispense with her "Satanic bureaucracy." When Mr. Lloyd George speaks of the attachment of India to the bureaucracy, he shows how far behind the times his mind, on Indian affairs, is moving. That attachment no longer exists. To-day India has nothing but intense dislike for a service which, with all its fine qualities, has failed to adopt itself to modern India.

An individuals many civilians are still admired, and even liked. As a service they are doomed. Their claim to know India better, and to interpret her more truly than any Indian, is laughed to scorn. The British civilian may lay to his soul the flattering unction that India envies and admires him. She does, to the point of desiring his complete extinction. India's heart is set, not on good government, but on self-government.

THE TWO AUDIENCES.

It follows, therefore, that to the civilian Mr. Lloyd George's compliments and promises have a somewhat hollow ring. Every word of his high eulogy was deserved. We all know that Englishmen in India have performed miracles of administration surpassing the feats of Roman proconsuls. But that will not entitle them to play a part on the new stage. Even the Prince of Denmark must not appear after the curtain has rung him down. Mr. Lloyd George harped on the word "trust" to a degree that will exasperate every politician in India. "Our duty," "our responsibility," "our very great trust," were expressions constantly recurring in his speech. He could not have used expressions more calculated to raise resentment in India, where every hint of continued pupillage for India stings like the lash of a whip.

"It is clear that Mr. Lloyd George made his speech light-heartedly, prompted by an amiable desire to soothe the ruffled feelings of a distinguished service. But he forgot that he had a larger audience. In his desire to make pleasant words take the place of actions, as far as the civil servants are concerned, he forgot that his Indian public will read into his speech an ominous reversal of the Montagu-Chelmsford policy. If the Prime Minister meant what he said, it is a serious menace to the King's promise of "progressive realisation of self-governing institutions." It is impossible to have an alien and autocratic bureaucracy firmly entrenched in a self-governing Dominion.

"INDIANISING" THE SERVICE.

Live every other country, India will need a Civil Service of her own, but she means to fill the cadre with Indians. And not only the Commissioners, Deputy-Commissioners, and Collectors are to be Indian. All the other services are going through a still more

A useful remedy for Asthma has been discovered by a local philanthropist. The gentleman is one J. P. His medicine is simple and as it is in improvement upon the existing systems of treatment which afford at least temporary relief it is well worth trying. He can be consulted at Durgs and Road Benares City, and I am sure this information if properly utilised will be a blessing to many a desperate soul.

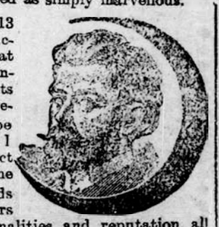
Free Life Readings

To All Who Write at Once

The well-known European Astrologer, Professor Roxroy, has once more decided to favour the people of this country with Free Test Readings of their lives from his office in Holland.

Prof. Roxroy's fame is so well-known in this country that he hardly needs an introduction from us. His power to read the lives of people, no matter at what distance they may be is described as simply marvellous.



In August 1913 he clearly predicted the Great War, and informed all his clients that "a bereavement in Europe in Royal circles will affect most of the Crowned heads Even Astrologers of various nationalities and reputation all over the world acknowledge him to be these master, and follow in his footsteps. He tells you what you are capable of, and how you can be successful. He mentions your friends and enemies, and describes the good and bad periods in your life. His description as to past, present and future events will astonish and help you.

Baroness Blanquet, one of the most talented ladies of Paris, says:

"I thank you for my Complete Life Reading, which is really of extraordinary accuracy. I had already consulted several Astrologers, but never before have I been answered with so much truth, or received such complete satisfaction. With sincere pleasure I will recommend you and make your marvellous science known to my friends and acquaintances."

If you want to take advantage of this special offer and obtain a review of your life, mention the name of this paper and get a Trial Reading free. Money not necessary. THE RENT ACT.

A SUGGESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Fancy a Corporator like Mr. K. F. Nariman supporting Dr. Viegas' resolution even though he says if he had his way he would have no increase in rent at all. The Corporation missed the point when discussing the resolution. The main point which should have been considered is whether the tenants as a class are in a position to bear any increase in rent? The majority of tenants in this city belong to the poor and middle classes and will this majority be in a position to pay the additional rent? Do not the city fathers know that the present is an acute time of distress, that the middle classes who are fixed wage, earners have every chance of losing their incomes and that nuemployment is staring both the poor and middle classes in their face? Is this an opportune time for any increase in rent being forced on the tenants? A better resolution for the Corporation to consider as a compromise would have been one where they could have resolved that tenants paying less than a monthly rental of Rs. 120/- be not charged any increase, and that a full increase of 33 1/3 per cent be allowed on those flats the rental of which is over Rs. 120/- per mensem as those who pay such high rents are usually well to do and can afford the increase proposed. Such a resolution would have been more acceptable to the public at large, for the poor and middle classes seldom pay rent over Rs. 120/- p.m. and this is the class who at present will simply be crushed under the additional burden, even if the increase be 20 per cent. only as suggested by Dr. Viegas. Take the position of the clerical community as an instance As matters are to-day their future could not have been more uncertain. In the majority of offices, including Government offices, retrenchment is going on and salaries are being reduced. Can it be expected, therefore, that this class will be in a position to pay any additional rent? The Bill which the Government desire to introduce is not only absolutely one-sided but is brought in at a most inopportune time, and it is hoped that not only will Dr. Viegas's resolution be thrown out but that an amendment to the said resolution will be passed on the lines suggested above.—Yours etc.,

LATE MOTILAL GHOSE.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—As a Bengali and one who once sat at the feet of the late Mr. Motilal Ghose my heart swells with pride to see the glowing tribute you have paid to the memory of the great departed soul in your article about him which appeared in your issue of the 6th instant. But my attention has been drawn to a certain statement you have made in the article where you have stated to the effect that Babu Motilal Ghose was a disciple of the Lokmanya Tilak or in other words you have written to the effect that Tilak was Motilal's guru.

But as I am connected and have closely associated myself with the Ghoses of the "Patrika" for about an age I believe I have some first hand knowledge to declare that Babu Motilal Ghose was never a disciple of the Lokmaniya Tilak but a colleague in the political activities in moulding the opinion of the Country.

Perhaps you may recollect that in a Foreword to the speeches of Tilak published by Messrs. Ganesh and Co., the late Babu Motilal Ghose wrote that he and the Lokmanya sat at the feet of the founder of the "Patrika" Babu Sisir Kumar Ghose and received instructions from him as regards patriotic work. From this it follows that Motilal was not a chela of the Lokmanya but a compeer in the political field. Moreover Motilal was older than the Lokmanya by nearly eleven years.—Yours, etc.

'CRISIS LIKELY AT ANY MOMENT."

CHAOTIC CONDITION OF EGYPT;

London, Sept. 4.—An Egyptian of high standing, who has arrived in London to make representations at the Foreign Office with regard to the chaotic condition of Egypt, admits that Englishmen have been insulted in the streets of Cairo and elsewhere.

He states that this bitterness is mainly due to a belief among Egyptians that they are being deceived. The Imperial Government says they are independent and their own rulers, then arrests leading men and sentences them to be shot and fines others £5,000—all under martial law and without reference to the Egyptian authorities. This policy is breeding a spirit of revolution. The situation is steadily becoming worse and a crisis is likely at any moment.—Special cable to "The Statesman."

Mrs. S. W. says: "I myself derived great benefit from Glaxo during the months before Baby was born, and was always in perfect health.

You can nurse Baby yourself

If the greatest privilege of motherhood is to be yours; if you would know the joy of having Baby dependent on you alone for health and strength, make sure now that you will be able to nurse him yourself. Very many mothers who could not otherwise nurse their babies have been enabled to do so by taking Glaxo themselves every day. Taken regularly two or three times a day (both before and after Baby's arrival), Glaxo enriches and stimulates the flow of breast milk, and maintains the mother's strength without taxing her digestion.

"WRONGING THE TAX-PAYER"

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—May I draw your attention to an article appearing in your issue of the 15th August under the heading "Wronging the Tax-payer" which is inaccurate as to certain statements and misleading in the deductions which the writer draws from admitted facts.

The reference to the automatic reduction in salaries in the Home Civil Service, in accordance with a sliding scale based upon the cost of living, is beside the mark. This addition to their pay, in the form of War Bonuses, was given to Home Civil Servants to meet the increased cost of living caused by the War. It was not a revision of pay; it was a special form of compensation for a specific purpose and was no longer applicable when prices fell. The salaries now drawn by members of the Indian Civil Service are not of this nature. They represent a revision of pay based upon the recommendations of the Public Service Commission which visited India before the War and whose conclusions were based upon conditions existing before the War.

The writer is also quite wrong when he says that the improvements in the conditions of service of Indian Civil Servants quoted by the Under-Secretary of State in the House of Commons have been given since 1919. The existing scale came into operation in December, 1919, and no increase on this scale has been granted since that date. Ignorance of this fact no doubt accounts for the writer's suggestion that the increase in public expenditure in the last two years has been largely contributed to by the increased emoluments of the Indian Civil Service and other All-India Services, e.g. the Police. On the contrary, the percentage of total expenditure due to the Imperial Services is constantly decreasing. Whereas in 1915-16 the salaries of the All-India Services in the Bombay Presidency represented 8.2 per cent. of the total provincial expenditure, the percentage in 1921-22 was 5.9 per cent. or a decrease of 2.3 per cent.

Moreover the average salary drawn by members of the Indian Civil Service in the Bombay Presidency to-day is only 8 per cent. greater than in 1910.—Yours, etc.,

J. F. GENNINGS,
Director of Information.

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—In her lecture at Sir Cowasjee Hall on "How to Win Home Rule", Dr. Annie Besant, as reported in your paper, said that "the first point she wanted to impress was that no other nation can make the constitution for another country, and make her accept that Constitution. It was her belief, that India should formulate her own constitution and not accept one made by another nation, or by any other Parliament."

Accordingly, she is calling a conference of all parties to formulate a constitution. I wish her success in this; but I should like to ask the learned lady, that believing as she does, why do she, and her followers accept and work the constitution made by another nation or parliament?

People can repose no trust in those, whose practice is quite contary to their profession. Let them first cease working a constitution made by a foreign nation, if she wishes success to her intended conference; and to begin with, let Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas follow his chief's advice and non-co-operate with the present constitution.

Example, as the adage goes, is always better than precept.—Yours, etc.,

NOTICES OF MOTION IN CORPORATION.

At the current monthly meeting of the local Municipal Corporation, Mr. K. F. Nariman will move:—

"That the Corporation urges upon the Bombay Government to hold an immediate public inquiry into all the causes and circumstances connected with the turning out of a large number of patients from the J. J. Hospital in August last, and after thus finding out the real causes, the Corporation further urges on the Government to deal adequately with all the parties responsible for this great hardship on poor patients."

Messrs. J. M. Mehta and B. N. Motiwala have given joint notice that they will move:—

"That the President be requested to write to Government inquiring what steps Government has taken or proposes to take with respect to the heartless and inhuman action of Col. Carter in summarily removing a large number of patients from the Sir J. J. Hospital and the Sir C. J. Readymony Eye Hospital wholly regardless of the consequences which must ensure from such drastic action."

Miracle of Spiritualism

THIS Wonderful Planchette is made of wood and is shaped like a heart, Underneath are two pantagraph wheels about two inches high. There is a hole in the so made plank of board. In this hole is fixed an ordinary pencil which is so adjusted as to form as it were, the third le of the Planchette. In the centre of the Planchette is fixed an electrified magnetic compound having full SPIRITUAL and MESMERIC power. (This is the special pattern of Professor N.P. Kotie. The Planchette is then placed upon a sheet of white paper and two persons lay their hands lightly upon it, not in any way influencing its motion. hen one of them or a third person, asks a question, and the wheels move The Planchette traverses the paper, and the pencil, of course, following the motion of the wheels, write, the reply very distinctly and freely. It is not necessary to ask the question aloud, a mental question is quite sufficient, and all languages are alike to the Planchette. Our Planchette is unique. Anybody may use it. It immediately writes the answers to the questions put to it. Everybody should own a Planchette. Price Rs. 5/8 (9s.4d.) including postage and packing.

MEDICAL OPINIONS.

Bohain (Aisne),
Monsieur PESQUI,
Since I began administering the Vin Urane Pesqui to my patients I have given up all the other antidiabetic medicines and I have done so, simply because your speciality is the only production yielding an excellent result. Whenever I have prescribed the Vin Urane Pesqui to a diabetic during the first stages of the disease I have, almost invariably, succeeded in effecting his cure, and in the case of inveterate diabetics in a state of organic decay I have found out that the sugar in the urine decreased every day without increasing whenever the patient adhered to the regimen that I had prescribed. While the sugar disappears, strength and vigour are restored. The rapidity in the reconstitution of strength at the outset of its use has really been a matter of surprise to me. Several patients are indebted to you for their lives and you deserve all congratulations for your discovery of this production.
Dr. FLAMANT, Licentiate in Sciencies, prizeman of the Paris Faculty of Medicine.

Monsieur PESQUI,
Am delighted highly pleased with the Vin Urane Pesqui. No more thirst, scanty proportion of urine, no sugar and strength restored.
LIHOREAU, M.D.,
Pont-Rousseau (Loire-Inferieure).

The Vin Urane (Uranated-Wine) prepared by Mr. Pesqui, of Bordeaux, has been qualitatively analysed at the Barral chemistry laboratory. The result of this analysis points to this medicine being a compound of old Bordeaux wine, in accordance with Bouchardat's prescriptions to which the following elements have been added: azotate of uranium, pepsine and other appropriate elements. The taste of this medicinal wine is very pleasant. Pure, or mixed with water, it almost instantly quenches the thirst and in a lasting manner; it prevents the dryness of the mouth, a most valuable condition for diabetic as they always are thirsty.
Water and other constitutive elements of the wine do not act on the uranium, consequently the wine forms an excellent vehicle. The azotate of uranium should be considered as the very best of specifics for the curing of diabetes. In our opinion a most brilliant future is in store, in therapeutics, for the Vin Urane Pesqui.
Dr. PAUL DELILLE.

Monsieur PESQUI,
I am glad to inform you that in the case of my father the quantity of glycosis has been nil since the last eight days.
Another diabetic, under treatment, is also much better.
Please send me another supply, usual reimbursement, for an aged person whose glycosis foots up 50 grammes per litre.
Thanks in the name of my diabetics.
I remain, etc.
Dr. MONIN,
Avry-le-Temple (Oise).

Sir,
Kindly send me another 10 bottles of your antidiabetic Vin Urane Pesqui. The result obtained, through its use, by my patient has exceeded my expectations, this diabetic is now in a very good condition. Under the influence of your preparation the various symptoms of the disease have been rapidly modified. I am very glad to be enabled to add this testimonial to so many others and to have met with a remedy productive of such good result.
Dr. L. MADEREY,
Au Pavillon-Saint-Sever (Landes)

Monsieur PESQUI,
I have prescribed 6 bottles of Vin Urane Pesqui, and the subsequent analysis after absorption of 4 bottles has shown, as compared with preceding analysis, a decrease of, say, 35 grammes of sugar per litre of urine. Hence, my client desires to continue this treatment, as being one that has done him far more good than all other medicines and he requests you to send him another 6 bottles.
GAILLOT, M.D.,
Thouars (Deux-Sevres).

MEDICAL OPINIONS.

Sir,
I have recently had an opportunity of giving a trial to your Vin Urane Pesqui.
The rapid improvement of which it has been instrumental in the case of a diabetic, for a long time entrusted to my care without any particularly satisfactory result, has, as a matter of fact really surprised me.
The urine of the patient referred to, contained about five or six months ago between 28 and 30 grammes of grucose per litre. To-day there are only traces of glucose: a result that has induced me to administer your preparation to two other diabetics.
Believe me to be, etc.
Dr. L. BERTRAND,
Blasimon (Gironde).

Monsieur PESQUI,
Will you have the kindness to send me 2 bottles of your Vin Urane Pesqui, and draw on me in reimbursement thereof. The sample received has been productive of a splendid result.
I remain, etc.
A. ROUX, M.D.,
at Cayenne-sur-Mer.

Onzain (Loir-et-Cher).
Monsieur PESQUI,
I have pleasure in acquainting you with the indisputable success obtained through the use of your Vin Urane inasmuch as I myself have been the object of this observation. About eight or ten months ago I experienced intense itching changeable as to its position, with general debility, during the last six months, and, ultimately the appearance of an anthrax confirmed my suspicions regarding the existence of diabetes. When the first analysis was effected a large proportion of sugar was detected in my urine. From that moment I began taking the Vin Urane Pesqui. On taking the seventh bottle my urine contained no traces of sugar at all.
Your Vin Urane Pesqui is a marvellous remedy and I really would be an ungrateful man if I conceded such a success well worthy being universally known. You are authorized to make whatever use you may deem proper of this letter only wishing that all your patients may obtain the same success that has restored peace to my mind and then my physical strength.
I am, etc.
Dr. POUSSIE.
